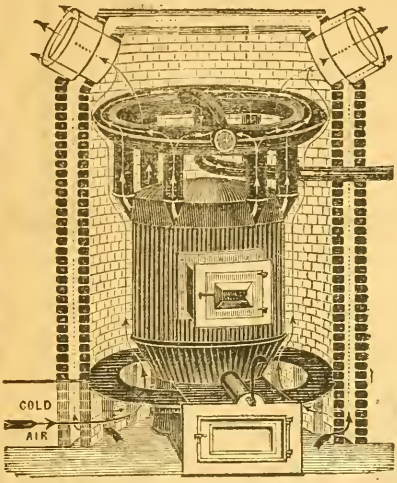
THE WORLD'S FAIR PRIZE M

AWARDED TO

Chilson's Patent Air-Warming and Ventilating



The following are among the important improvements attained by these Furnaces:

1st. An abundant supply of fresh, healthful, warm air, free from red-hot iron heat, so injurious to health.

2d. Their great power in Warming Buildings, is a conclusive proof that all the heat from the fuel is used in warming the rooms, which accounts for their economy in fuel.

3d. By these Furnaces and the plan of setting the same, there is not a possibility of setting the buildings on fire in which they are located.

4th. They are completely adapted for burning any kind of fuel,—Anthracite or Bituminous Coals, Wood, &c.

5th. Their substantial material and plan of construction render them durable beyond a doubt for a lifetime.

6th. The facility and ease of management, and ready access for cleaning out, &c., are unsurpassed.

7th. The plan for making the joints of the Furnace proof against the escape of smoke and gas, is in every respect perfect.

8th. Fire may be kept in them from Fall until Spring, by replenishing but once a day.

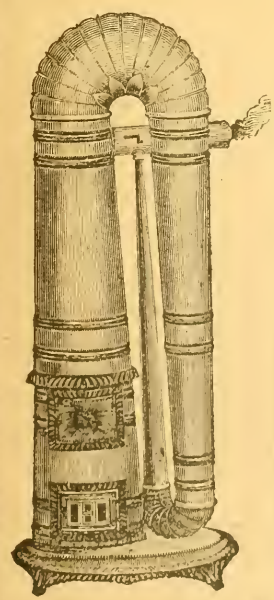
These Furnaces have been thoroughly tested in all parts of the country, and are now declared to be the best in the world. They have been awarded the HIGHEST PREMIUMS, (Gold and Silver Medals,) at the principal FAIRS in this country; which, with the unanimous reports in their favor, by the different Committees of the State and City Governments, (see their various printed reports,) together with the certificates and recommendations of more than forty-seven hundred persons who have them in use, (many of whom are professional gentlemen, whose scientific attainments in such matters are well known,) have combined to render them unrivalled in this country. The WORLD'S JURY AT THE LONDON FAIR have also declared them to be the BEST IN THE WORLD. The unparalleled success and favor they have met with in this country and Europe are very gratifying to the inventor, whose practical experience and personal attention to the subject of WARMING AND VENTILATING BUILDINGS, are unsurpassed. All persons desirous of having a pure, fresh, healthful, warm atmosphere in their Dwellings, Churches, School-Houses, Court-Houses, Hospitals, Stores, &c., free from the injurious effects of red-hot iron heat or coal gas so common to the Iron Heaters, will find an apparatus at our Store in every way suited to their wants.

We are now fully prepared to erect in both public and private buildings, every variety of our WARMING AND VENTILATING APPARATUS, and give our personal attention, or printed directions, for the erection of the same in any part of the World. Also, a full and extensive assortment of REGISTERS, HOT-AIR GRATES, and EMERSON'S VENTILATORS, with every variety of COOKING RANGES, STOVES, GRATES, &c.

We have a splendid assortment of the various sizes of those beautiful Metallic or Mirror Marble CHIMNEY PIECES. Also, an extensive assortment of the latest styles of European and American Patterns of PARLOR AND CHAMBER FRAME GRATES.

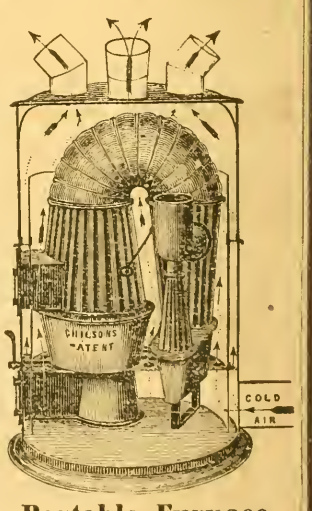
THE TRIO VENTILATING STOVE.

INVENTED BY GARDNER CHILSON.



Patented Sept. 16, 1851.

The engraving of this wonderfully operating Stove, will enable every intelligent mind to comprehend, at a glance, the desirable results that must be accomplished by this invention. After the coal is ignited, and the damper in the smoke pipe fully closed, the continuous tapering radiator is at once filled with products of combustion from the fuel. The heated smoke and gases are compressed in this radiator, (with the exception of the smoke vent,) until their own pressure causes them to flow back and be brought in contact with the fuel, where the smoke and gases are entirely consumed, producing a constant blaze on the surface of the coal, similar to that of a gas burner. Its form is a trio, and has a self-balanced draft; thus the ignited fuel is held, until its heat becomes exhausted against the continuous tapering surface. The consumption of fuel is so slow, that it is impossible to form clinkers or cinders. The heat is confined to the lower currents of air in the room, warming the floor for some ten feet around the Stove. From 50 to 75 per cent. of the fuel commonly used is saved by this arrangement. Fire may be kept from Fall until Spring, by replenishing but once in from twenty-four to forty-eight hours. We have six sizes of this Stove, adapted to all classes of buildings, and the practical operation of some five hundred has fully developed a philosophical principle, that must take the place of the common stoves at an early day.



Portable Furnace.

We have four sizes of a PORTABLE FURNACE, just completed on this principle, which greatly surpasses all former inventions for Portable Furnaces.

MARBLE COMP'Y

Chimney Pieces & Pier Slabs,

Manufactured of Stone, by the PENRHYN MARBLE CO. (Patented 1852.). These are new and beautiful articles, in imitation of the richest kinds of Marble. In style and finish they stand unequalled; are very highly polished, retain their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by coal gas, smoke, or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction. The best references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use. While much superior in appearance, they are sold cheaper than anything of the kind in the market. During the present season they have been awarded Gold Medals at the Exhibitions of the American Institute, New York, and the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association. In fact, the confidence with which they have thus far been used, gives the fairest evidence that the Penrhyn Marble, by its many advantages, will in a great measure supersede the use of all other.

PIER SLABS and SHELVES for parlors, chambers, &c., together with Bronzed, Gilt, and other kinds of Brackets, of various patterns, furnished to order.

Architects, builders, and all others, are invited to examine them. Arrangements have been made for the supply of the trade. Samples may be seen at the Warerooms of the Company.

BOSTON:
PUBLISHED BY GEORGE ADAMS,
No. 91 WASHINGTON STREET.
JAN. 1854.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1854, by GEORGE ADAMS, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the District of Massachusetts.

PREFACE.

Several important changes have been made in this volume of the Register. The professions are arranged separately by counties. The Business Directory has also been reduced, and the names of actual patrons only appear. More space is thus allowed to the State officers, the laws, courts and institutions.

The Table of Contents exhibits a greater variety of subjects than usual. Particular attention is called to our table of votes for Governor, and the Constitution. A complete list of towns in New England is also given, with the population from the United States Census of 1850.

We would refer our patrons to the Advertising Department of the Register. The list comprises some of the most enterprising firms, of acknowledged ability and skill.

Unwearied personal efforts have been made to give to the Register a character creditable to the government and institutions of the State. Valuable assistance has been rendered from the various official departments, and from individuals. This generous interest manifested in the work, while it is most thankfully received, inspires us to greater diligence. Yet, with all our care, errors may have been made, for which we bespeak the indulgence of our patrons.

We cannot but glance at this time at the general prosperity of the State. The year 1854 has commenced under favorable auspices. Business, and the prospects of business, were probably never better, and we see a corresponding state of things in the health and welfare of the people. Blessed with peace in our midst and on our borders — our citizens engaged in honorable industry — our homes surrounded with every comfort — it is not surprising that enterprise should be crowned with magnificent results.

Already do our railroads defy mountain passes, and stretch over fertile plains. The East and the West meet together and exchange their productions. Our merchant ships ride upon every sea, and in every land our intellectual prowess is acknowledged. Under the genial influence of republican institutions, commerce and trade flourish, agriculture and the arts thrive. Our manufactories, our workshops, and our fields, show alike the effects of wisdom and industry. With a free population of a million of souls, with immense wealth and almost unlimited resources, with a time-honored past, an unrivalled present, and a brilliant prospect for the future, Massachusetts holds an honorable and important position before the world.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

The session of the General Court for the year 1853 was begun at the State House, in Boston, on Wednesday, the fifth day of January — being the first Wednesday — at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and was prorogued on Wednesday, May 25. At this session, 422 Acts and 99 Resolves were passed — being 100 more Acts and 9 less Resolves than were passed at the next preceding session. We give, in the same general manner as last year, the titles, with abstracts of all these Acts and Resolves, an outline of the other legislative proceedings appearing to possess interest and importance, and a summary of the statistics presented to the Legislature in various reports.

It will be observed that thirty-one companies have been incorporated for manufacturing purposes. The increase of capital stock authorized in manufacturing companies, is $950,000. Sixteen banks have been incorporated, with an aggregate capital of $4,200,000. The increase of capital authorized in other banks is $6,310,000. Sixteen insurance companies have been incorporated; also, six savings banks, and sixteen gas light companies.

The titles of the Acts and Resolves below are given in full, accompanied by as full an abstract of their provisions as is likely to be desired. The letter [G.] is placed before such as are designated as General Acts and Resolves by the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The numbers placed before the titles show the order of their approval by the Governor, and indicate, in each case, the chapter which the Act or Resolve makes in the official code for the year 1853. The date enclosed in brackets, after the title, is the time of the approval by the Governor.

The letter [P.], placed at the end of the abstract of an Act, shows that it is to take effect from and after its passage, which is considered as contemporaneous with its approval by the Governor, indicated by the date in brackets, as explained above. All other Acts and Resolves, in accordance with the general provisions of the Revised Statutes, take effect on the thirtieth day after their passage, unless some other time is expressly mentioned — in which case it is here given.

TITLES AND ABSTRACTS OF THE LAWS AND RESOLVES OF 1853.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

The session of the Massachusetts Legislature of 1853, began on January 5, and ended on May 25, and was thus 141 days in length; there was, however, a recess of four days at the beginning of May, in order to allow an opportunity to the Convention for the revision of the Constitution to assemble and organize in the Hall of House of Representatives, after which the two bodies held their sessions every day in the same place — the House using the Hall in the mornings, and the Convention in the afternoons. These circumstances should be considered in comparing the length of the session with those of former years. We gave a table, showing the length of the sessions for the last 23 years, at page 33 of the Register for 1852. The length of the session of 1852 was 137 days.

We notice below some of the proceedings of the Legislature, in addition to the Laws and Resolves, of which the titles and abstracts are stated above.

ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate was called to order, January 5, by CHARLES H. WARREN, the senior senator present; and was organized by the choice of that gentleman as President, he receiving 9 votes out of 16, against 7 for J. S. C. Knowlton. Charles Calhoun was chosen Clerk, receiving 9 votes against 8 for Francis S. Underwood.

The House of Representatives was called to order the same day by Giles C. Kellogg, of Hadley, the senior member present, and was organized by the choice of George Bliss, of Springfield, as Speaker, he receiving 146 votes out of 283, against 80 for James M. Usher, of Medford, and 51 for Samuel Clark, of Northborough. William Schouler was elected Clerk, receiving 151 votes out of 287, against 85 for Lewis Josselyn, and 48 for Charles W. Slack.

In the Senate, January 13, Rev. James D. Farnsworth was chosen Chaplain, receiving 18 votes out of 35. In the House, a week earlier, Rev. Stephen Lovell was chosen Chaplain upon the third ballot, receiving 152 votes out of 274.

In the Senate, Jan. 12, Benjamin Stevens was elected Sergeant-at-Arms, on the part of that branch, receiving 35 votes, all that were cast.

In the House, Jan. 6, he was elected on the part of that branch, receiving 176 votes out of 269, against 92 for Timothy R. Page.

ORGANIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE.

By a report made to the Senate, Jan. 8, it appeared that the whole number of votes thrown by the people for Governor, at the State election, in the preceding November, was 138,450, making 69,226 necessary for a choice, and no person had that number. John H. Clifford, of New Bedford, had 62,233; Henry W. Bishop, of Lenox, had 38,763; Horace Mann, of Newton, had 36,740; and David Henshaw, of Leicester, had 357, and they were accordingly the four constitutional candidates, from which two must be selected by the House, to be sent to the Senate for the final choice by that body of one to be Governor. In like manner Elisha Huntington, of Lowell; James D. Thompson, of New Bedford; Amasa Walker, of North Brookfield; and Bradford L. Wales, of Randolph, were the four constitutional candidates for Lieutenant Governor.

In the House, Jan. 12, John H. Clifford was elected as the first candidate for Governor, to be sent to the Senate, receiving 148 votes out of 283, against 84 for Henry W. Bishop, and 51 for Horace Mann. Henry W. Bishop was elected as the second candidate, receiving 189 votes out of 249, against 59 for Horace Mann. Elisha Huntington was elected the first candidate for Lieutenant Governor, receiving 145 votes out of 278, against 82 for James D. Thompson, 48 for Amasa Walker, and 3 for Bradford L. Wales. James D. Thompson was elected as the second candidate, receiving 117 votes out of 228, against 63 for Bradford L. Wales, and 48 for Amasa Walker.

In the Senate, the same day, John H. Clifford was elected Governor, receiving 29 votes out of 33, against 4 for Henry W. Bishop; and Elisha Huntington was elected Lieutenant Governor, receiving 28 votes out of 32.

In a Convention of the two branches, Jan. 13, George B. Upton, of Boston; Thomas Savery, of Wareham; William Sutton, of Salem; Ebenezer Torrey, of Fitchburg; Stephen M. Weld, of West Roxbury; Henry P. Fairbanks, of Charlestown; John H. W. Paige, of New Bedford; Henry Chickering, of Adams; and Osmyn Baker, of Northampton, were elected Counsellors. Six of these gentlemen were qualified the next day, one of them Jan. 15, and two Jan. 16.

January 13, Messrs. Clifford and Huntington were sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties, and to sustain the Constitutions of Massachusetts and of the United States; and His Excellency delivered the annual message.

In a Convention of the two Houses, Jan. 13, Ephraim M. Wright, of Easthampton, was elected Secretary of the Commonwealth; and Jacob H. Loud, of Plymouth, Treasurer and Receiver General; and in a subsequent Convention, David Wilder, Jr., was elected Auditor of Accounts.

VACANCIES IN THE SENATE.

In a Convention of the two branches of the Legislature, Jan. 11, twenty vacancies in the Senate were filled, as follows:—5 in Essex, 6 in Middlesex, 2 in Hampden, 1 in Franklin, 1 in Berkshire, 3 in Norfolk, 3 in Bristol, 1 in Nantucket and Dukes. In the Senate, the same day, a communication was received from J. S. C. Knowlton, of Worcester, announcing his resignation of his seat, and the vacancy was filled Jan. 13, in a Convention of the two branches.

ELECTION SERMON.

The Election Sermon was preached Jan. 5, in the Old South Church, before the Governor and members of the Legislature, by Rev. Samuel Wolcott, of Belchertown.

The choice of the preacher of the Election Sermon, by usage, rests with the Senate and House alternately, the House making the election for the even years. Accordingly, Feb. 15, the House proceeded to make an election for the year 1854. Rev. Miner Raymond, having 99 votes out of 235, was, by vote, declared elected, that being the highest number, though not a majority.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE REGISTER.

In the Senate, Jan. 7, it was ordered that each member of the Senate be furnished with a copy of the Massachusetts State Register. A similar order passed in the House.

April 30, an order was passed both in the Senate and House, directing that each member of the Executive and Legislative departments of the Government be furnished with a copy of the new edition of the Journal of the debates and proceedings of the Convention of 1820, for the revision of the Constitution.

May 25, in the House it was ordered that the members be furnished with copies of Barnes's Constitutions of the several States, and of the United States.

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The House of Representatives, Feb. 2, proceeded to the choice, on the part of that body, of a Senator in the Congress of the United States, for six years from and after March 4, 1853, to succeed Hon. John Davis, of Worcester.

The whole number of votes was	279
Necessary to a choice,	140
Edward Everett, of Boston, had	146
Caleb Cushing, of Newburyport,	75
Stephen C. Phillips, of Salem,	51
Bradford L. Wales, of Randolph,	5
George Ashmun, of Springfield,	1
Benjamin F. Hallett, of Boston,	1

The next day the Senate proceeded to the choice of a Senator, on their part, with the following result:—

The whole number of votes was	35
Necessary for a choice,	18
Edward Everett, of Boston, had	28
Stephen C. Phillips, of Salem,	4
Caleb Cushing, of Newburyport,	3

Hon. Edward Everett was accordingly elected by the concurrent vote of the two Houses, and he took his seat in the Senate of the United States at the session specially called by President Pierce, March 4, 1853.

VICE PRESIDENT KING.

The House adjourned its session, April 19, on learning the decease of William R. King, Vice President of the United States, in testimony of respect to his memory. The Senate, the next day, did the same.

FOUNTAINS.

In the House, May 19, an order for the removal of the fountains in the State House yard was rejected by a vote of 134 to 23.

RECOVERY OF A LOST JOURNAL.

In the House, March 9, a communication was received from Charles W. Storey, announcing the discovery, by him, in looking over some papers in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, of volume 27 of the journals of the House, which had been missing ever since 1843, and for the recovery of which, a reward was offered in 1847.

SALARIES OF JUDGES OF PROBATE.

In the House, May 20, a bill was reported establishing the salaries of the Judges of Probate of the Counties of Hampshire, Hampden, and Franklin at $300 each; and that of the Judge of Probate of Dukes County at $125. May 24, the bill was rejected.

ANNEXATION OF CHARLESTOWN TO BOSTON.

In the Senate, April 15, a bill was reported providing for the annexation of the city of Charlestown to the city of Boston; the cities, however, to remain distinct so far as the election of Senators and Representatives in the Legislature is concerned. The bill passed the Senate, but in the House, May 10, it was referred to the next General Court, by a vote of 123 to 56.

BANKS AND BANKING.

By the abstracts of Acts given in preceding pages, it will be seen that a considerable increase of bank capital was granted by the Legislature of 1853. At the time most of these bills passed the House, (having previously passed the Senate,) a bill was introduced and passed, requiring all banks to permanently reserve in their vaults ten per cent. of their specie, under a penalty of $500. When this bill reached the Senate, May 2, it was indefinitely postponed.

DAYS OF GRACE ON COMMERCIAL PAPER.

By a statute of 1838, (chapter 182,) the practice which had been usual for many years, was legalized, of requiring notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., which may fall due on Sundays or on certain specified holidays, to be paid on the next preceding day. The holidays specified, were Thanksgiving, Fast, and the Fourth of July. In the Senate, Feb. 1, 1853, it was ordered that the committee on the judiciary consider the expediency of adding Christmas to this number. Feb. 7, the committee reported a bill, with regard to Christmas, in precisely the same terms as the statute of 1838. Feb. 15, the bill was ordered to a third reading, and, Feb. 18, it passed to be engrossed. On coming into the House, in accordance with a standing rule, it was referred to the committee on the judiciary, who reported, March 2, that it ought to pass in a new draft, by which it was provided that such notes, drafts, &c., falling due on the days mentioned, or any other holidays, should not become payable until the next succeeding day. March 17, a motion to postpone the matter indefinitely was lost, 59 to 113, and the new draft was substituted for the Senate bill, by a vote of 115 to 58, and was ordered to a third reading. A motion to reconsider was lost, March 21, by a vote of 75 to 108. March 30, the bill was passed to be engrossed. In the Senate, March 31, the question being on concurring with the House in the substitution of the new draft, the whole subject was indefinitely postponed without a dissenting voice.

HOOSAC TUNNEL.

In the House, April 26, a bill to enable the Troy and Greenfield Railroad to construct a tunnel through the Hoosac mountain, by a loan of the credit of the State to the amount of $2,000,000, was ordered to a third reading by a vote of 122 to 94, and, May 13, it was passed to be engrossed, 142 to 96.

In the Senate, May 24, the question being on ordering the bill to a third reading, it was rejected, 18 to 22. This vote was reconsidered, 20 to 18, for the purpose of allowing the introduction of an amendment providing that the scrip should not be delivered to the company until the road and tunnel should be completed, which was adopted, 20 to 18; the bill as amended was then again rejected, 18 to 19.

LIQUOR LAW.

In the House, May 12, a proposition to substitute for the bill under consideration a bill to repeal the prohibitory liquor law of the preceding year, was rejected 149 to 103; and the bill supplementary to the law, designed to perfect its provisions and render more easy its operation, was lost by a tie vote.

In the Senate, May 25, a somewhat similar supplementary bill was referred to the next General Court, by a vote of 20 to 19. This vote was reconsidered, 20 to 14, and the bill was ordered to a third reading, 22 to 12. A motion to suspend the rules that it might be put upon its passage to be engrossed forthwith, (this being the last day of the session,) was lost, 18 to 14, not two-thirds; and a subsequent motion to reconsider this vote was lost, 17 to 14. So the bill fell through.

URSULINE CONVENT INDEMNITY.

In the House, April 8, a bill relating to the sufferers by a mob in Charlestown, providing for the appointment of three commissioners to adjudicate the claims of persons for loss of property, in consequence of the destruction of the Ursuline Convent in 1834, the sums to be paid without interest, and not to exceed $50,000, was ordered to a third reading, 124 to 81. April 11, this vote was reconsidered, 117 to 103; and the question recurring on ordering the bill to a third reading, was decided in the negative, April 13, 111 to 120, and the bill was thus lost.

TEN HOUR BILL.

The House, April 26, voted, 136 to 96, to substitute for the report that it was inexpedient to legislate on the subject of a ten hour law, a bill providing that, after Oct. 1, 1853, no person be employed in laboring in any manufacturing or mechanical employment, by or for any company incorporated by or under the laws of the Commonwealth, more than 12 hours; after April 1, 1854, more than 11 hours; and after Oct. 1, 1854, more than 10 hours; except in running railroad trains or steamboats, in making the repairs necessary to prevent the stoppage or interruption of the ordinary running of engines, mills, machinery, railroad trains, steamboats, and mail stage-coaches, or in doing labor of necessity or charity. The bill was, the same day, ordered to a third reading, and, May 17, was passed to be engrossed, 105 to 88. In Senate, May 20, a substitute bill was reported, simply defining a day's labor as ten hours, in the absence of any special agreement, which was passed by that branch. On the last day of the session the House refused to concur with the Senate in adopting this substitute; no committee of conference was appointed, and thus the matter dropped.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS.

A proposition to fix the compensation of members at $2.50 per diem, (instead of $2, as has been customary,) was made in the House in the early part of the session, but was rejected, and $2 was established as the pay. An order was subsequently introduced, instructing the committee on the pay roll to consider the expediency of making the pay $2.50 per diem. The rules not allowing a rejected proposition to be renewed, were suspended, and the order being thus before the House, was amended so as to instruct the committee to report a resolve establishing the pay at $2.50. Such a resolve being reported, was ordered to a third reading, April 26, by a vote of 126 to 29, and was subsequently passed to be engrossed. May 4, it was rejected in the Senate, 23 to 3.

CHANGE OF NAMES.

The number of persons, the change of whose names is recorded in the book of "Acts and Resolves," for 1853, is 44. These changes of name were made by the judges of probate, under the provisions of the statute of 1851, chapter 256. See Massachusetts State Register for 1853, page 40.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The subject of amending the present Constitution of the State had been considerably agitated in the community prior to the Legislative session of 1850.

By that Legislature, the subject was referred to a committee, of which Whiting Griswold, member of the House, from Greenfield, was chairman. This committee reported favorably to the proposed alteration; but it failed to pass the House of Representatives. A bill, however, introduced by Col. Schouler, in favor of altering the Constitution, in reference to the plurality system, after the first trial, was carried through the House, but lost in the Senate.

At the fall elections of 1850, a majority of members, of both branches of the Legislature, in favor of amending the Constitution, were elected. The attention of the Legislature of 1851 was called to the subject by Gov. Boutwell, who, in his inaugural address, recommended an alteration of the then existing basis of representation. A large joint special committee was chosen by the Legislature, and Mr. Griswold was appointed chairman. This committee agreed upon a plan for the proposed alteration; but it was lost in the House by a small majority.

Those in favor of its adoption exerted themselves in behalf of referring the subject to the people, and the Legislature passed an Act, requiring the people, at the November election of 1852, to vote upon the following question: — "Is it expedient that delegates should be chosen to meet in convention, for the purpose of revising, or altering, the Constitution of government of this Commonwealth?"

Contrary to the wishes of the friends of the measure, the people, at their elections the ensuing fall, vetoed the proposed Convention, by a vote of 65,846 to 60,972. Upon the assembling of the Legislature of 1852, considerable discussion arose upon the question of amending the Constitution by the calling of a Convention; but before the close of the session, another Act, similar to the one passed by the preceding Legislature, was adopted.

At the election of 1852, the people ratified this Act by a vote of 66,416 in favor of, to 59,112 in opposition. In the ensuing spring of 1853, they elected delegates to the Convention, a large majority of whom were in favor of the proposed amendments. Previous to this election, however, Gov. Clifford, in his message, had spoken of the Convention as of "doubtful constitutionality;" and great efforts were made by its opponents, in the Legislature, to repeal the Act requiring it to be holden. But the Convention assembled on the 4th of May, 1853, at the State House, in Boston, and was duly organized.

The following were the officers of the Convention: —

NATHANIEL P. BANKS, JR., President

The names of the members were as follows: —

The whole number of members was 420, of whom about 260 were in favor of the proposed change, and the remainder opposed thereto.

On the 1st of August, 1853, after a session of 90 days, the Convention adjourned, having adopted the following principal amendments to the Constitution, which were submitted to the people at the fall election of 1853.

For convenience' sake, we present an abstract of these amendments, in the order in which they occur in the amended Constitution and propositions submitted to the people. The numbering and wording of the amendments are our own.

1st. The Declaration of the Rights of the Inhabitants. The only amendment made to this is by providing that judges shall hold their offices "by tenures established by the Constitution," instead of during good behavior; and that their salaries "shall not be diminished during their continuance in office."

2d. In regard to the length of legislative sessions, and the compensation of members. By this amendment, no member of the Legislature is to receive pay after the session has continued one hundred days; and no Act increasing the pay of members, shall apply to the Legislature passing the Act.

3d. Senatorial representation. By this amendment the State is divided into forty districts, each of which is entitled to one senator. The person receiving the largest number of votes in each district, is elected senator for that district.

4th. In reference to the basis of representation in the House. By the amendment, each town containing less than a thousand inhabitants, can elect a representative every valuation year; besides one, five years, out of every ten years. A town of one thousand population, is entitled to one representative annually. In order to choose a second representative, three thousand additional inhabitants are necessary; after which, the ratio of increase of representatives is one to every four thousand inhabitants. Two or more towns, of less than a thousand inhabitants each, may unite and elect representatives on the above basis. Every city is to be divided into districts, no one of which shall elect more than three representatives. This amendment provides also for the dividing of the State into districts containing an equal number of voters, for the choice of representatives; provided the people at their election in 1856, shall approve of the same division.

5th. The property qualification in the election of Governor and Lieutenant Governor, is abolished. Also the titles of "His Excellency" and "His Honor."

6th. Councillors, secretary, treasurer, and auditor to be elected by the people instead of by the Legislature.

7th. The attorney general, district attorneys, sheriffs, judges of probate, registers of do., clerks of courts, and commissioners of insolvency, are to be elected by the people, in lieu of being appointed by the governor.

8th. Judges appointed by the governor, in future, are to hold their offices for 10 years, instead of "during good behavior." At the expiration of the 10 years, they may be reäppointed by the governor.

9th. Trial justices, and justices and clerks of Police Courts, are to be elected by the people; and justices of the peace, appointed by the governor, are not to try any cases, or issue warrants in criminal cases.

10th. The tax-qualification for voting, is abolished.

11th. The secret ballot is established.

12th. The day of the State election is changed to correspond with that of the presidential election.

13th. The plurality rule is adopted, in reference to senators and councillors, and all county and district officers; and the Legislature have power to apply it to all other state, city, and town officers, and to representatives.

14th. The militia is placed less under the control of the Legislature, and more under that of its own members.

15th. Harvard College is placed more under the control of the Legislature, who may fill vacancies in the Board of Corporators.

16th. The school fund is enlarged to two millions of dollars.

17th. The Constitution may be amended, by a Convention, as often as the people so decide, and the Legislature is obliged to submit it to them, whenever one-third of the electors wish. The people are obliged to vote upon the question of amendment every 20 years.

18th. The writ of habeas corpus shall never be denied, except when the court has especial discretionary power conferred upon it by the Legislature.

19th. The jury is made the judge of the law in criminal cases, and the judge can reject evidences, and grant a new trial in case of conviction.

20th. A creditor of the Commonwealth can prosecute his claims against the State.

21st. Imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud, is abolished.

22d. School funds are not to be appropriated to sectarian schools.

23d. Corporations are not to be created by the Legislature by special act.

24th. Special bank charters not to be granted by the Legislature, and security to be given for the redemption of all notes.

The whole cost of the Convention did not greatly exceed the sum of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

By a vote of the people, Nov. 14, 1853, the new Constitution, as a whole, was rejected, there being about 5000 majority opposed to its adoption.

MASSACHUSETTS MILITIA.

[Corrected at the office of the Adjutant-General, to December, 1853.]

The Militia of Massachusetts is divided into two classes, the active and enrolled; the latter consists of all "able-bodied white male citizens, of the age of eighteen years, and under that of forty-five, excepting persons enlisted into volunteer companies, and persons exempted by law, or incapacitated by physical and other causes." [See sec. 5, Militia Law.] The whole number enrolled in 1853, as appears from the Returns of Assessors of cities and towns, (whose duty it is to make such returns,) is 133,331, being an increase of 16,785 over last year.

The Active Militia consists of Volunteers, who are paid a per diem allowance when on duty, amounting, in the whole, to $9.00 per annum, each man of the Artillery and Infantry, and $18.00 each for Cavalry. They consist, by the Brigade Returns of 1853, of about 7,000 men. These are organized into three Divisions and six Brigades, embracing two Divisionary Corps of Cadets, five Companies of Cavalry, five Regiments, and two Companies "annexed" of Artillery, and nine Regiments and three Battalions of Light Infantry, and one Battalion of Riflemen.

The first division is made up of Militia in Suffolk, Norfolk, Plymouth, Bristol, Barnstable, Nantucket, and Dukes counties; the second of Militia in Middlesex and Essex; the third of Militia in Worcester, Hampshire, Hampden, Franklin, Berkshire.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY IN MASSACHUSETTS.

This year we present by Counties and Towns a list of the Churches and Clergy in the State.

In the Registers of 1852 and 1853 was only given a list of the Clergy, with their names alphabetically arranged, by Counties, stating denomination.

In order to furnish an item of information respecting the religious societies in each town, and to comply with the request of many of the patrons of this work, the present mode has been adopted, which was the manner of giving this information in the Register prior to 1852.

While it is the main object of the Register to give facts and information for the business man, it is not irrelevant to the work to state quite fully statistics respecting religious matters; indeed, any general statement in regard to Massachusetts would certainly lack the "one thing needful," if the religious institutions were not presented as a prominent feature. Massachusetts justly feels proud of its religious history and institutions. It is true that sometimes it "has done that which it should not have done, and left undone those things it should have done;" yet as a whole it stands at the head, and leads all other States of the Union in the conscientious proformance of religious duty, lead where it may. Its foundations were laid by men so obedient to religion as to hazard every thing for a faithful discharge of duty. The faithfulness of the fathers to the dictates of conscience, and their devotion to the requirements of God, have not been disregarded by their descendants to the present time,—and may they never be. The religious element, when properly and intelligently cultivated and developed, is the surest security for man's freedom and rights, and the strongest guaranty for the prosperity and safety of the State.

We give a few facts respecting the increase, &c., of the churches, arranging the denominations in alphabetical order.

BAPTISTS.

The present number of the members of the churches of this denomination in Massachusetts is 32,230. During the past year there have been 825 additions, which after deducting deaths, &c., leaves a net gain of 123 members.

The number of pastors is 265, 8 of whom have been ordained during the year.

There have been 8 new societies established, making the whole number at present, 254; 240 of these societies are in possession of houses of public worship, 10 of which have been dedicated this year.

Six clergymen have departed this life during the year, but in no other way have the ranks of the ministry been thinned.

Revivals have not been as numerous as in some former years; but the churches throughout the State are in the enjoyment of peace and harmony.

Quite an effort has been made in behalf of the Theological Institution at Newton, which has received an endowment of one hundred thousand dollars. This denomination has sustained a severe loss in the death of one of its oldest and most valued pastors, Daniel Sharp, D. D., of Boston, who was also President of the Newton Theological Seminary.

The missionary and other benevolent operations of the Baptists are very extensive Under their patronage is the American Baptist Missionary Union; the Massachusetts Baptist Convention; the Northern Baptist Education Society; and the New England Sabbath School Union. The first of these has 19 missions and 130 missionaries under its care. Its receipts for the past year, were over $134,000. The receipts of the Baptist Convention were about $4600. Those of the Sabbath School Union $1,803. This latter Society has published 42 volumes of religious books during the year.

There are at present in this State 4 publications devoted to the interests of this flourishing denomination, all of which are published in Boston.

CONGREGATIONALISTS.

(TRINITARIANS)

The whole number of Congregational (Trinitarian) churches in the State is 469; and the number of members connected with them on the 1st of January 1853, was 67,688. The number of settled pastors at the present time is 380—the rest of the churches being in general statedly supplied. From January 1, 1852, to this time (November 15, 1853), 47 pastors have been dismissed, and 61 settled; 9 have also died who sustained the pastoral office. During the same period 5 new churches have been organized, and 13 meeting-houses built. For the year 1852, 2,144 members were added to these churches by profession of their faith, and 1,805 on recommendation from other churches—in all, 3,949 additions during the year. Considerable discussion has been had the past year on the subject of ministerial support, with a view to an increase corresponding with the increased expense of living; and most of the societies who have had occasion to settle pastors within the last twelve months have advanced on the salaries previously paid, while many others have done the same for their ministers as a matter of simple equity in fulfilling the spirit of the original contract.

CHRISTIANS.

The Christians, though numbering 250,000 members in the United States, are not numerous in Massachusetts, there being only about 2000 communicants in this State.

In Massachusetts there are thirty-two churches, thirty houses of public worship, and thirty-one clergymen. Three of the church edifices were erected during the past year. About 200 additions have been made to the churches during the same period. One periodical devoted to the interests of this denomination is published in Newburyport.

Much interest has been felt, and continues to be manifested among the members of this denomination, in reference to what are technically termed the "Reforms of the Day," as also, considerable upon the subject of education, as is shown by the establishment of a large and richly endowed collegiate institute in Ohio, of which Horace Mann, formerly of this State, is president.

EPISCOPALIANS.

From the journal of the proceedings of the last annual convention of the Diocese of Massachusetts, held in May, 1853, we extract a few particulars respecting the progress of this denomination in Massachusetts.

During the year preceding the convention, Bishop Eastburn administered the rite of confirmation to 347 persons. He admitted to Priest's orders, four persons, who are rectors of churches in Quincy, New Bedford, Northampton and Worcester. Two Deacons were ordained also during the year, both of whom immediately took charge of parishes. Ten clergymen have removed into the State from other dioceses; and five have taken charge of parishes in other States. One clergyman has received a public admonition from the Bishop, agreeably to the sentence of an Ecclesiastical Court, for the violation of a sentence of suspension for six months, pronounced against him by the Bishop. No deaths have occurred among the clergy in this State.

One new parish has been organized; and a magnificent church has been erected in Brookline, at a cost, including the bell, of $27,600.

The "Tract Committee" reported rather an unfavorable state of affairs respecting that department.

The "Board of Missions to Seamen," report that "at no period since the establishment of the mission, has it given fairer promises of extensive usefulness, than now."

They have distributed 217 Bibles and Testaments in foreign languages, besides 382 other volumes, and 12,774 pages of tracts.

The Free Church of St. Mary's has distributed 810 Bibles and Testaments, and 1018 other volumes. An application for organization, made by the "Free Church of St. Mary's for Sailors," was rejected by the convention, on the ground that such a church was rendered unnecessary, by the close proximity of the one established by the "Board of Missions," and the impossibility of supporting both of them.

The Society for the Relief of the Widows and Orphans of deceased Clergymen, report funds on hand to the amount of nearly $8,000. There has been but one case of relief during the year.

The present number of churches in Massachusetts is fifty-eight, eleven of which are in Boston. All of these churches, except one, have rectors. The whole number of communicants is 5,609, being an increase of 315 from the number of last year.

Baptisms during the year, 986.

Contributions for religious purposes $37,687.80.

FREEWILL BAPTISTS.

This denomination, although small in this State, is quite numerous in some other States of the Union.

The whole number of church members in this State is a little short of 1500. There are eleven churches, thirteen clergymen, and nine houses of public worship.

In the United States there are about 50,000 members of this denomination. This denomination is distinguished for its independent and thorough action upon the various reformatory questions of the day.

FRIENDS.

In the Yearly Meeting for New England, which includes all the Meetings of Friends east of Connecticut River, there were in 1836 about 9000 members. Since that time, say in 1845, a separation took place and several hundred members left; the number that left was equal to about five per cent. The present number of members comprising New England Yearly Meeting, is about 8000.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL.

Massachusetts is occupied mostly by the New England Conference, but Cape Cod southern border is included in the Providence Conference. The extreme northern part of the State falls within the Troy and New York Conferences. The number of church buildings in the State, is nearly 170, while the number of stationed, travelling and local ministers, [by local is meant such as are not connected with the conferences,] is 300. The number of church members may be safely estimated at 24,000. The increase for the past year has been 1000 The Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham, Rev. Minor Raymond, principal, incorporated in 1824, is in a very flourishing condition, having a faculty of eight teachers and 609 students. A large and extensive branch of the Methodist Book Concern is located at No. 5 Cornhill. Boston, J. P. Magee, agent The Zion's Herald, a weekly religious paper, edited by Rev. D. Wise, is the organ of the church for New England. The Sunday School Union Tract and Missionary Societies have each a local agency within the State. Several camp meetings are held annually, the principal of which are at Millennial Grove, Eastham, Wesleyan Grove, Martha's Vineyard, and at Southampton, which, being held in the summer season, are very largely attended by all classes. Extensive revivals have been realized in some places, but not to such an extent as for a few previous years. Quite a number of those who have entered the ministry this year are graduates of the Concord Biblical Institute, founded within a few years in Concord, N. H.

One new church has been organized within the city of Boston, and several in other parts of the State.

A German mission has been established in Roxbury among the German population. They worship in a house recently purchased by themselves, and have the services of Rev. C. F. Grimm, as missionary.

ROMAN CATHOLICS.

The present number of members of the Catholic church in Massachusetts, is between 240,000 and 250,000. As this is the first census that has been taken by the authorities of the church, they are not able to tell the increase since last year. For the same reason the number of new churches, or houses of public worship, cannot be ascertained. The present number is sixty-seven, including four chapels. Thirteen churches are now in process of erection. Besides these, public worship is held at intervals in numerous halls and large rooms, throughout the State. The places where public service is thus held occasionally, are termed missions, and are visited by a priest at the request of any sick persons within their bounds.

The whole State comprises what is termed the "Boston Diocese," and is under the jurisdiction of Bishop Fitzpatrick, a native of Boston. He formerly had charge of the six New England States, but owing to the great increase of the denomination, the other States are formed in dioceses by themselves. Besides the Bishop, there are sixty-five Priests in the State. Owing to the want of statistics, our account of this denomination must be quite limited. Under the head of benevolent societies. will be found some facts in reference to the benevolent operations of the church.

Sunday schools are established in nearly all of the churches in the State. In many places the pupils are not only instructed on Sundays, but on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Connected with the church are three convents of the "Sisters of Notre Dame," one of which is located in Boston, one in Roxbury, and the other in Lowell. All of these institutions have large free schools and academies under their charge.

The "Sisters of Charity" carry on a large free school, in connection with an Orphan Asylum, the latter of which has eighty orphan girls under its protection. These girls are provided for, intellectually and physically, at the expense of the charitably disposed.

There is also in Boston a temporary home established, for the promotion of the religious, intellectual and physical welfare of destitute boys.

The "College of the Holy Cross" at Worcester, which was destroyed by fire in 1852, has been rebuilt this year.

SHAKERS.

There are four United Societies of Shakers in this State. One in Harvard, Worcester Co.; one in Shirley, Middlesex Co.; one in Hancock, and one in Tyringham, both in Berkshire Co.

The society at Hancock is composed of four families, about two hundred members; Tyringham, two families, a little over one hundred members; Shirley, three families, about one hundred members; Harvard, four families, about two hundred members.

Over Hancock and Tyringham preside two males and two females, who are termed the order of ministry; and the same over Harvard and Shirley. Each of the above families are governed and guided by Elders, who constantly reside in them; generally two males and two females. In addition to these, mostly in each family, are two males and two females, called trustees, appointed to transact temporal business.

Respecting the difference in numbers between male and female members, perhaps in all four of the societies, three-fifths are females.

At present there are but few who profess faith with them, who remain outside. Individuals at times do so till they can settle pecuniary and other affairs and move in. The additions from abroad are about equal to deaths and secessions, so that the numbers remain about the same.

Their schools are subject to State regulations and the examinations of the school committees, and have usually received the credit of being as good schools as are commonly found in the different conntry towns throughout the State.

Salaried teachers or religious preachers employed by the season, for hire, are entirely unknown among them. With them every employment is alike honorable in its place, from the office of an elder to the shepherd who tends his flock; and any of the members of these communities, either male or female, when assembled for divine worship, if they find in themselves a word of exhortation, they may freely speak. Some of each sex who develop the best qualifications for public speaking in their public assemblies, expound the Scriptures, and prove or attempt to prove to spectators that they follow the example of Jesus in their life and doctrine; and occasionally travel on missionary labors abroad.

In each society there is a house dedicated as a place of public worship exclusively, where the Sabbath services are held. It is large enough for their own worshipping assembly, and a large body of spectators. Besides this, in each family, a large hall is appropriated for private devotions through the week.

SWEDENBORGIANS.

The Swedenborgians number between 1500 and 2000, and have thirteen Societies, four of which are in possession of houses of public worship. The number of clergymen in the State is five. Much additional interest has been awakened in the doctrines of the New Jerusalem Church, by the publication of a voluminous compend of the writings of Swedenborg, which, together with a complete history of the founder of the denomination, form an excellent synopsis of the doctrines of that very prolific writer.

UNITARIANS.

The number of Societies of this denomination in Mass., is about 150, twenty-two of which are in Boston. There are eight ministerial associations in the State, which meet at different intervals. The number of clergymen in the State including ministers at large, is not far from 154. Four Unitarian ministers in the State have died during the year, one of whom was Andrews Norton, for many years Professor of Divinity in Harvard University, in whom the denomination have sustained the loss of one of their ablest theologians and ripest scholars. He was nearly 67 years of age when he died. It is said that about 100 young clergymen have studied divinity under his care. There are 6 periodicals published in the State, devoted to the interests of Unitarianism.

There is one Theolcgical Seminary in Mass. under the care of the Unitarians, also a Charitable Society for the Relief of Widows and Children of deceased ministers, partly under the care of Trinitarians; a society for propagating the gospel among the North American Indians; an "Evangelical Missionary Society;" a "Children's Missionary Society;" a "Society for promoting Theological Education;" and one for promoting "Christian Knowledge, Piety and Charity," besides several "Sunday School Societies."

Among the interesting occurrences of the year which affect this denomination, is the debate which has arisen respecting the adoption of written forms of prayer, to be used in public in lieu of the present extempore services.

This subject occupied a considerable portion of the time of the last annual convention of the denomination, which held its session at Worcester, on the 18th, 19th and 20th days of October, 1853.

From the report of the doings of the Convention, published in the Christian Register, we gather the following items.

The question first discussed by the Convention was, "By what means can the religious services of our Churches be made more impressive?"

About 14 gentlemen took part in the discussion, a few of whom seemed to be of the opinion that the adoption of a liturgy would remedy the evil in question, while the majority were either decidedly opposed, or in favor of a union of the two forms, the liturgical and the extempore. No action was taken upon the subject by the Convention.

Another subject of interest before the Convention, was the qualifications of partakers of the Lord's Supper. The speakers on the subject were about equally divided in number, between those who favored the opening of the Lord's table to all who wished to partake, and those who believed that Christians only should be admitted.

The subject of a closer union between the Societies in this and other States, was agitated, and it was proposed that every Unitarian Church on the Continent, be invited to send delegates to the next convention.

UNIVERSALISTS.

This denomination have not hitherto adopted that thorough and systematic organization which has characterized some of the other sects in this State. During the last year, however, they have adopted measures for more complete returns, which will enable us to give in future more details of interest.

The Boston Association has received returns from a portion of the societies in the three counties which it comprises; but as the number from which such returns have been received, is only 40, to publish them would give only a very partial view of the condition of the cause throughout the State.

During the past year, according to the "Universalist Register," for 1854, there have been three new societies established in the State; making the total number 153.

There are now 148 houses of public worship, four of which have been recently erected.

The number of clergymen is 125; 5 of whom were ordained during the year. There have been no deaths among the clergy of the State.

The "State Missionary Society," which confines its labors to the relief of destitute and feeble churches, still continues its operations; as also does the "Mass. Sunday School Association."

There have been thirteen new volumes, devoted wholly or in part to Universalism, published during the year.

Five periodicals have been regularly issued during the year.

WESLEYAN METHODIST.

There are of this denomination in this State about 15 societies, 8 meeting houses, 16 pastors, and 1,000 communicants.

BANKS AND BANKING IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The business necessities of the country seem to demand banks of some kind. In different ages and countries of the world, various articles have been used as circulating mediums, some of which were of such a character as to render them inconvenient, or wholly unfit for the present enlarged and extended business of the civilized world. The subject of banking has usually engaged a large share of the attention of the National and State Legislatures. Massachusetts has from time to time taken such action as seemed to be required for the better regulation of the currency, and the security of the banks.

To guarantee the community against risk, the legislature of Massachusetts, in May, 1851, passed an Act causing three "Bank Commissioners" to be appointed by the governor, the duty of which commissioners should be to visit every bank in the Commonwealth within two years from May, 1851, and examine minutely the state of its affairs. This board, according to its last annual report made in December, 1852, had visited 160 banks, leaving 53 to be examined.

The whole number of banks in the State at present is 213, including 60 savings institutions. Of this number, 16 banks and 6 savings institutions were incorporated by the legislature of 1853.

The whole amount of banking capital in 1852 was $43,270,500, exclusive of deposits in the Savings Banks, which amounted to $18,401,307. If we add to this capital of over $43,000,000, the deposits in the banks, which amount to over $15,000,000, we have $58,000,000 at the command of the banks, while the circulation of bills is less than $22,000,000. So that at present there can be no danger apprehended from a general failure among the banks by a demand for payment of notes, unless specie is called for, which of course could be of no more use to the note-holder, than security on farms, houses, goods, &c.

Besides this, the banks have in their vaults, over $3,500,000 in specie, ready to be produced at a moment's warning. Here, then, is a capital of $43,000,000, against a circulation of $21,000,000. But to render "assurance doubly sure," various rules have been established by the legislature, for the guidance of the banks. In the first place, this biennial exhibition of their books is to be made without a moment's warning. The officers are placed under oath, and are obliged to testify to whatever points the commissioners require. By them the banks are advised not to divide their profits, when they have met with greater losses than profits, and thus false appearances are prevented.

2d. They may not divide profits merely upon the exhibit of the cashier or president, but the directors must examine the accounts.

3d. The commissioners advise them not to borrow from each other.

4th. They may not loan money except at their places of business.

5th. They are advised not to loan to parties out of the State, not engaged in business.

6th. Also not to loan to banks out of the State.

7th. No director is allowed to owe the banks over 8 per cent. of the capital. A violation of this rule was discovered on the part of one of the banks, and the offenders were promptly handed over to justice.

The Suffolk Bank of Boston sustained a loss of $200,000 by the well-known defalcation of Rand and Brewer; but so great was the confidence of the community in the integrity and wisdom of the managers of that bank, that its stock suffered no depreciation whatever. The committee of the bank reported a resolution that no person engaged in speculating in stocks, and living beyond his means, should be employed by the bank.

The Commissioners bear testimony to the perfect willingness of the officers of the various banks to aid them in their investigations, and say, that the "general conduct and condition of the banks examined have been, with some qualifications, satisfactory to the commissioners, profitable to the stockholders and useful to the community," and that "both banks and savings institutions have shared in the general prosperity of the community."

For some other items of interest we are indebted to the "Bank Commissioners' Report for 1852," to the "Bankers' Magazine," and to other authentic documents.

The whole amount of capital at present invested in the banking business, exclusive of the Savings Banks, is $53,780,500, being an increase from last year of $10,510,000; $4,200,000 of which constitutes the capitals of 16 new banks, and $6,310,000 is an increase of the capital of existing banks.

The average dividend of the Boston banks, for 9 years previous to the present, is 7.38 per cent.

The present capital of the Boston banks is $28,010,000. The last yearly dividends previous to the returns of September, 1852, were $1,861,775, or a trifle more than the average dividend (7.38,) on the capital of the 32 banks at that time.

The capital of the 107 country banks in 1852, was $18,610,500. The dividend was $1,385,998, or a trifle less than the average of the Boston dividends. The largest capital of any one of the city banks at the present time is $4,000,000,—that of the "Merchants' Bank." The smallest is $100,000,—that of the Broadway Bank.

The largest dividend of Boston banks is 10 per cent.,—that of the Suffolk and Market Banks. The smallest is 6 per cent,—that of the "Massachusetts Bank." The largest capital out of Boston, is $600,000—the "Bedford Commercial," and "Merchants' Bank," New Bedford, having each that amount. The smallest is that of the "Millbury Bank," Millbury, $50,000.

The largest annual dividend of country banks, is 12 per cent.,—that of the "Dedham Bank," Dedham. The smallest is 3 per cent.,—that of the "Mercantile Bank," Salem.

The number of depositors in the "Savings Banks," in 1852, was 97,353; amount deposited, $18,401,307.86. Increase over the previous year of depositors, 10,816, and of deposits $2,847,219.28. Increase from depositors of 1834, when returns were first required by law, over 73,000; of deposits, nearly $15,000,000. Increase of sums deposited, about $50 to each individual. In September of this year, the Supreme Court decided that all Savings Banks, whether incorporated before or after the laws passed regulating banks, were subject to those laws. Some of these institutions had disputed this point, and in May, 1852, it was submitted to the Court for adjudication.

No bank has been established during the year, under the provisions of the "general banking law."

Considerable interest has been manifested by the banks upon the subject of preventing counterfeiting, and efforts have been made to check this nefarious business. The Legislature appropriated $2,500 annually for 5 years to an association for the suppression of counterfeiting, and the "New England Association" has labored energetically to accomplish this purpose. One measure proposed, is for each bank to own its plates, instead of using a general plate, common to other banks, as has been the practice heretofore.

The banks of this State were prohibited by the Legislature of 1853, from passing fractional bills, which were deemed necessary by some persons, on account of the scarcity of change.

During the year the "Phenix Bank," of Charlestown, has added to its former dividends a sum sufficient to constitute 94 per cent. of its outstanding debts, when it stopped payment.

Many other facts of interest respecting banks, might be stated, but we have already prolonged our article much beyond our intention. We close by quoting the words of the "Bank Commissioners." "Banks, when managed with fidelity and intelligence, aid materially in promoting important public interests, and at the same time afford liberal dividends to their stockholders;" in which sentiment, we most cheerfully concur.

INSURANCE AND INSURANCE COMPANIES.

At the risk of uttering "vain repetitions" of the words that flow from every man's mouth, in regard to the utility of insurance companies, we venture to add our mite to the vast volume of praise that the merits of the insurance system have elicited.

How any man can neglect so wise a precaution against the loss of his property, is strange; and how a calculating "Yankee" can do it, is an enigma indeed. It requires no depth of intellect for a man to perceive, that if by paying a small per centage of the value of his property, he is effectually guarded against the loss thereof by fire, it is folly to run the risk of losing all this property, lest he should lose a minute per centage of the whole amount. This is being "penny wise and pound foolish," with a vengeance. It is like a man refusing to advertise a new business and thereby running the risk of losing all his prospective custom, for fear of losing the small sum charged for advertising.

"Nothing risked, nothing gained," is an old adage, and a true one. But to risk the greater amount, in preference to thesmaller, is extremely foolish.

Imagine the feelings of the man who at the dead of night is aroused from his slumbers by the cry of fire. He rushes to the street or part of the town where his buildings are located, and finds the fire raging in the next building. All he can do is to curse his negligence, while he watches the progress of the flames, that in an hour are to strip him of a large portion of his income.

How different is the case of the man who is well insured. The cry of fire disturbs him not. He turns in his bed, perhaps, but directly is lost again in the embraces of Morpheus. His slumbers are as unbroken as if no devouring element were destroying his property, for he is insured.

In 1852 the number of fire and marine insurance companies in the State incorporated with specific capital that made returns was 33,—of which number 19 were in Boston, and 14 in the country. The capital of these companies, according to the report of the Secretary of State, at the close of 1852 was $6,327,050.00. Amount of losses occasioned by fire, paid during the year, $334,740.66. Marine losses, $1,504,574.54. Amount then at risk by fire, $74,285,079.05. Marine risks, $65,914,580.25. Average annual dividends for 5 years, or since incorporated, 9,82-100 per cent.

The whole number of mutual companies, including fire and marine, was 75, of which number 60 are in the country, and the remainder in Boston. Total amount of property of the marine, and marine and fire, $4,325,169.07; losses paid during the year, and losses ascertained and not paid, $1,375,388.84. Amount insured during the year, $120,058,474.00. Dividends during 5 years, or since incorporated, $809,031.52.

Amount insured by existing policies by the "Fire Insurance Companies," $159,206,886.91. Insured last year, $57,252,036.17. Losses paid the past year, and ascertained but not paid, $485,171.56. Dividends for one year, $248,688.20. Whole amount of assets, excluding liability of parties insured to additional assessment, $9,518,280.77.

From the above figures it appears that the losses are not quite a three hundreth part of the risks, so that the business is equally profitable to the companies, and beneficial to the community.

RAILROADS.

Massachusetts prides herself, not without reason, upon the number and extent of her railroads. The general safety of the locomotives, and the superior elegance of the cars used by our companies, are well known. As a general thing railroad stock in Massachusetts is considered a permanent and reliable source of investment. The increased facilities of locomotion between town and country have resulted in a corresponding increase of travel, and it is a fact of interest that thousands are nightly carried from the city to their homes in the suburbs. Many of these return at an early hour to engage anew in the various pursuits of business or pleasure — thus mingling the busy stir of business and city life with the quiet of a country residence.

From the census returns of the United States, and from the reports of the railroad corporations, presented to the Legislature, we gather the following information, which we present to our readers, in addition to our last year's summary. We then gave the length and terminus of every road that forms one of the numerous radii that diverge from that grand centre, whose landed periphery stretches in a westerly direction from "away down East," and crosses the base of the snowy caps of the White Hills, and the broad waters of the peaceful Connecticut; traversing the "green hills and fields" of Vermont and Western Massachusetts, and, tunnelling old Hoosac with its piercing stroke, then touches the "land of steady habits," and, sweeping the rear of Rhode Island's busy villages, is at last lost to the eye amid the sandy depths of Cape Cod.

The amount of business done by the seven principal roads that extend from Boston, and, with their several additions and extensions, form the radii above alluded to, is very nearly as follows, as appears from the returns of 1852: —

The whole number of Railroads in operation in Mass., Jan., 1853, was 43, besides 12 not yet completed. The number of miles these forty-three roads run is 1280.29. Their total cost was $60,019,051.77½. Earnings for 1852, over $7,700,000. Dividends nearly 2½ millions, or up to January, 1852, 6 ½ per cent. Total number of accidents 87, of which 63 were fatal. The average speed of these roads has been about 23⅔ miles per hour.

In comparing them with those of other States, we find that in proportion to the area of the State in square miles, Massachusetts outstrips all other States in this railroad race, except the "land of steady habits," which has evidently proved her cognomen in this case to be a misnomer; for she also takes the lead in the number of miles of railroad, in proportion to population. Next to Connecticut comes Ohio, and then Massachusetts, which exceeds all other States on the population basis, except the two above mentioned. She possesses the honor of having built the first railroad in the United States, which was a short one from the Quincy quarries to Neponset River.

While the cost of constructing railroads in New England is greater than in any other section of the country, the fare is less than on others, except those between New York and Cincinnati. The roads in Massachusetts cost over $5000 per mile more than those in New York, and nearly $30,000 per mile more than those constructed in Georgia, owing principally to the extraordinary lack of grade in the latter.

The number of miles of railroads in operation and in progress in the United States on the 1st of January, 1853, was nearly 26,000; costing not far from $600,000,000; or about $27,000 per mile. The average cost of Mass. railroads is nearly $47,000 per mile.

The average cost per mile of railroads on the European continent is over $130,000. Those in France cost $254,000 per mile. Those in Great Britain, $177,000. In all Europe there are less than 20,000 miles of railroads in operation.

The great railroad enterprise of the day, is the contemplated Pacific road. Quite a number of routes have been proposed for said road, but no scientific survey of any route west of Missouri had been made prior to January, 1853. The shortest route specified, will be at least 1,600 miles in length. In building this gigantic road, the Rocky mountains are to be pierced, and the vast deserts west of the Missouri River must be crossed; but notwithstanding these difficulties, it is estimated that the cost will not greatly exceed $40,000 per mile; and even if it comes up to the cost of the Massachusetts roads, the whole expense will be only 72 millions of dollars, a sum less than is often invested in railroads in England, in a single year.

When this road is completed, it will take but four days to go to San Francisco from New York; 79 from San Francisco to London, via Calcutta, and 10 from London to New York; making a total of 93 days only, or about three months to travel completely round the globe.

Freight trains are run between Salem and Lawrence, as well as between Salem and Lowell.

The freight station at Salem is Phillips wharf, where goods transported on the railroad are landed and shipped free of wharfage, and also without charge for truckage, freight cars being loaded and unloaded alongside vessels and stores. The wharf affords good berths for a large number of vessels, and being situated at the mouth of the harbor, can be reached without obstruction (from bridges or other cause) and without delay. The detention of vessels in loading and unloading is much less than is usual elsewhere. The harbor may be entered by vessels of the largest class in any state of the wind or tide.

TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.

The first telegraph erected in the United States, was in June, 1844, between Washington and Baltimore, a distance of 40 miles. In 1845, this line was extended to Boston, through New York and Philadelphia. Since then lines have been completed in this State from Boston to New York, from Boston to Portland, and from Boston to Burlington, Vermont, on the principle invented by Alexander Bain. Also from Boston to New York, one on the principle of Royal E. House. In all there are seven telegraphs extending from Boston to different places.

The superiority of House's invention over that of Morse, is that the message sent, is printed on paper by the telegraph, and thus the necessity of transcribing is avoided. It is said to be more complicated, however, and less easy to manage than Morse's.

The difference between Bain's and Morse's is, that the former operates through the aid of chemical agencies, and thus requires less electricity to operate with, and transmits messages much more rapidly. While Morse's telegraph transmits only 150 letters a minute, Bain's sends 1200. Morse's system is in more general use, however, both in the United States and abroad. It transmits three times as fast as its inventor at first contemplated. The average cost of erecting telegraphs is about $150 per mile. Two hundred and fifty lbs. of iron wire are used per mile. Over $50,000 per annum is paid for despatches, by the Press Association of New York city. Receipts, in one year, of the New York and Washington line, over $100,000.

CEMETERIES IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Within a few years an improved taste has been manifested in regard to Cemeteries.

The wealth of the citizens has been freely bestowed, and nature and art have joined their forces to make the resting places of the dead more attractive, and better designed to exercise and elevate the religious element.

The principal ones in the vicinity of Boston, are Mount Auburn in Cambridge, Forest Hills and Mount Hope in Roxbury, Woodlawn in Chelsea, and Brighton Cemetery in Brighton. These beautiful Cemeteries give assurance, that, while the environs of Boston present such desirable locations for the abodes of the living, they are not wanting in most attractive and quiet resting places for the dead.

The interest in beautifying these hallowed places, is by no means confined to Boston and its suburbs. In nearly all of the cities and large towns of the Commonwealth, cemeteries have been prepared in which an effort seems to be made to excel each other in adorning these holy spots.

We give below the officers of some of the Cemetery Corporations. There are others in various parts of the State, the particulars concerning which we could not learn in season for this article, but which we shall give in our next volume.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC., IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Said a certain sagacious personage, "Let me make the ballads of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws." Our ballads are our newspapers; which, not in a poetical sense by any means, but by being scattered all over the land, and meeting the eye of every one, become as powerful "for weal or for woe" as the ballads of a singing nation.

The newspaper is perused alike by the scholar and the dolt—the gentleman of leisure and the business man,—the delicate lady and the poor washerwoman. The newspaper is the only literature that is exclusively American. While other nations can with a prouder heart than ours point to their learned tomes of philosophy, to their truthful histories, and to their enchanting songs and bewitching stories, we can lay our hands upon the hundred thousand copies of a mammoth weekly that come forth from some subterranean recess before the earliest riser has left his couch, and which, ere he has broken his morning fast, are scattered up and down the country by the lightning-like messenger that annihilates time and space in his rapid movements.

The newspaper can be rendered a mighty blessing, or it may become a serious evil to the nation. The position of an editor is one of great responsibility. How important, then, that his words should be "like apples of gold set in pictures of silver." But it is not our object to descant upon the advantages of newspapers to society. We merely wish to present a few facts respecting them. It is well known that to Massachusetts belongs the honor of having established the first printing press in America, (at Cambridge in 1639,) and the first newspaper ever published in America. This was the "Boston News Letter," a copy of which we have just seen. It is a diminutive specimen compared with the newspapers of the present time; there being in it only about as much matter as is now contained in a single column of our mammoth dailies. It measures 8 inches across, and about 12 from top to bottom, or not far from the size of a half sheet of fool's-cap. On special occasions an additional half sheet was issued. The head of the paper bears these important words, "published by authority." The news seems to be mostly of a foreign character. It was commenced April 24, 1704, and was printed by B. Green.

Now, in the city of Boston alone we have upwards of 120 newspapers and magazines. Of this number 12 are issued daily, over 60 weekly, and the remainder at different intervals. Besides what are published in Boston, we have 12 dailies, about 80 weeklies, and 16 issued at other times, or a total of over 225 papers published in Massachusetts. These have a circulation of not less than half a million of copies,—the number published throughout the United States averaging 1785 circulation. The whole number of papers issued in New England, according to the last census returns, was 424. In the Middle States, there were 876, in the Southern States 716, and 784 in the Western States, or a total in the United States, of 2800 papers, circulating 5,000,000 copies at each issue, or 422,600,000 copies annually. The names, places of publication, and the names of the publishers of the papers issued in Massachusetts, are here given.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

ESTABLISHED BY LAW, 1838.

The STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS are designed for those only who purpose to teach, and especially for those who purpose to teach in the Common Schools. Of those who avail themselves of the advantages of these Schools, and who afterwards become teachers in the Common Schools of Massachusetts, no tuition fee is required. There are at present three in this Commonwealth; one at Framingham, Middlesex County; one at Bridgewater, Plymouth County; one at Westfield, Hampden County; and another is soon to be opened at Salem, Essex County.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT FRAMINGHAM.

Eben S. Stearns, Principal.

This School has the honor of being the first and oldest institution of this class in the New World. Originally established at Lexington, July 3, 1839, it was transferred in May, 1844, to West Newton, from thence, in 1853, to Framingham.

Pupils are admitted on the day preceding the commencement of every other term.

There are three terms in the year. The Winter Term commences on the 2d Wednesday in December, and continues 15 weeks. The Summer Term commences on the 2d Wednesday in April, and continues 15 weeks. The Autumn Term commences on the first Wednesday in September, and continues 12 weeks.

BRIDGEWATER STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Marshall Conant, Principal.

Those who enter this school, male pupils, must be at least 17, and females, at least 16 years of age.

The Fall River railroad passes through Bridgewater, and the Normal School House is but a few rods from the depot.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT WESTFIELD.

David S. Rowe, Principal.

This school first went into operation at Barre, September 4, 1830. In 1841 it was suspended, and, in September, 1844, was recommenced at Westfield.

Terms.—The school year is divided into three equal terms, of 14 weeks each, commencing as follows:—

The Spring and Summer Term, the last Wednesday in March.

The Fall Term, the 3d Wednesday in August.

The Winter Term, the 1st Wednesday in December.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

Of these Institutes, the Secretary of the Board of Education, in his report, says: "They are steadily advancing in power and efficiency. Just in proportion as we have succeeded in providing able and skilful instructors to conduct them, has the interest manifested in them by teachers, school committees and the people at large increased. The instruction now given at them is superior to that of any previous year, and the impression they have left wherever they are held corresponds with their character. An arrangement has been completed, by which a greater amount of service is secured from men of the first order of talents than has been usual."

The number of Teachers' Institutes held during the year was twelve. They were as follows:—

THE TUFTS COLLEGE.

Medford. Incorporated 1852. Rev. Hosea Ballou, 2d, D. D., President. B. B. Mussey, of Boston, Treasurer. Rev. Otis A. Skinner, of Boston, Secretary.

The Universalists are engaged in the erection of a college in Medford, which will be opened probably in the fall of 1854. It is situated on Walnut Hill, and its lands lie partly in Somerville and partly in Medford. The site is very beautiful, and commands a fine view of the harbor, Boston, Charlestown, Roxbury, Brookline, Cambridge, Brighton, Newton, Lexington, Woburn, Winchester, Malden, and Lynn. One hundred thousand dollars have been raised for this institution. It is under the control of a Board of Trustees, most of whom reside in the New England States. The principal college building is already erected, and is one of the finest public buildings in the vicinity of Boston. This building is 100 feet by 60, three stories high, and contains a chapel, library, lecture rooms, recitation rooms, &c., in all twenty-two rooms. A house for the president, and two large boarding houses will be built in the spring, and other boarding houses will be erected, as the wants of the institution require, the rent of which will be merely nominal, in order to bring the price of board as low as in any of the colleges in New England. It is the intention of its patrons and friends to make the institution in all respects equal to the best New England colleges, and at the same time to furnish the agriculturist, the manufacturer, the mechanic and the merchant, with the education requisite to their pursuits. The system of instruction will be somewhat on the plan of Brown University.

A Common, embracing from ten to twelve acres, has been laid out in front of the institution, which is to be handsomely fenced and planted with trees.

This School is kept in the building lately occupied by the State Normal School, situated in the pleasant and healthful village of West Newton, Mass., on the line of the Boston and Worcester Railroad nine miles from Boston, and about two minutes' walk from the station.

It is intended that the course of studies shall embrace every branch of a thorough English and Classical education, as well as Modern Languages; and while particular attention is given to preparation for College, or for Mercantile and Scientific pursuits, the highest aim of the teachers will be to impart instruction in the common branches thoroughly and correctly.

A primary department will be connected with the institution, into which pupils of the youngest school-age will be received. Particular attention will be given to the subject of manners and morals.

THE PERKINS INSTITUTION AND MASS. ASYLUM FOR THE BLIND.

Richard Fletcher, President. Stephen Fairbanks, Vice President. Thomas B. Wales, Jr. Treasurer. Samuel G. Howe, M. D., Director and Secretary.

Thomas G. Cary, Theophilus P. Chandler, George B. Emerson, Nathaniel B. Emmons, Joseph Lyman, Samuel May, George R. Russell, Charles Sumner, Trustees in behalf of the Corporation.

The Board of Visitors, consisting of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House, &c., have appointed Thomas T. Bouvé, Isaac Emery, Stephen Fairbanks, Edward Jarvis, Trustees in behalf of the State.

From the Report of the Trustees the following extracts are taken:—

"The general course of the Institution during the year, has been both pleasant and prosperous. * * * The State of Massachusetts has continued to grant to the Institution the annual allowance upon which it relies mainly for support, and without which it could not exist. Other States, in and out of New England, have continued to send beneficiaries, and a few individuals have sent private pupils, the payment for whom increases the income, and makes it nearly equal to the expenses. * * * During the whole period of the existence of the Institution, liberal appropriations have been made, not only for carrying out our own immediate object, and giving every facility and advantage for educating the blind of New England, but also for promoting the good of the blind everywhere, by devising and improving apparatus for instruction, and by printing and diffusing books in raised characters. In this respect, certainly, our Institution has done its full part towards the promotion of the common weal. For the means of doing these things, in the face of an annual deficit, reliance has been placed upon those generous men in our community, whose large benevolence is the secret spring which keeps the institutions of beneficence that so abound within our borders in healthy and vigorous operation. Some of these men, in generous answer to appeals, and others without any appeal, but guided by the instinctive perception of want which benevolence imparts, have from time to time, by their liberal donations, enabled the Institution to extend the sphere of its usefulness, and to undertake enterprises having in view the good of the blind generally, which could not have been undertaken with the ordinary means at its command. One of these enterprises, and by far the most important one,—that of printing books and forming a library,—has been suspended during the last year from want of funds; but there is hope that it will be taken up again and carried on in good time.

The number of inmates reported in January, 1852, was one hundred and four; of these twenty-five have left, while only eighteen new ones have been admitted, so that the present number is ninety-seven. For several years past the number has fluctuated between ninety and one hundred and ten."

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Young blind persons, of good moral character, can be admitted to the School by paying $160 per annum. This sum covers all expenses, except for clothing; namely, board, washing, medicines, the use of books, musical instruments, &c. The pupils must furnish their own clothing, and pay their own fares to and from the Institution.

There is a vacation in the Spring, and another in the Autumn. The friends of the pupils can visit them whenever they choose.

Indigent blind persons, of suitable age and character, belonging to Massachusetts, can be admitted gratuitously, by application to the Governor for a warrant.

MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOL FOR IDIOTIC AND FEEBLE-MINDED YOUTH.

First, corner of K. street — South Boston.

S. G. Howe, Pres.; Geo. B. Emerson, Vice Pres.; Stephen Fairbanks, Treas.; Edward Jarvis, Sec.; Samuel Eliot, Joseph Coolidge, John A. Andrew, James Lodge, Samuel Downer, Jr., S. G. Howe, Edward Jarvis, and E. G. Clark, Trustees appointed by the Corporation. James M. Williams, Taunton; Robert W. Hooper, Boston; Stephen M. Weld, West Roxbury; Geo. Osborne, Danvers, appointed by the Governor and Council.

The school continues under the direction of Dr. Howe. The place of principal teacher is filled by Mr. J. Vose, who was for some years assistant teacher.

In May, 1848, the Legislature appropriated for the support of an experimental school $2500 a year for three years, which was nearly expended in the prosecution of the effort.

The number of idiots in the State is computed at twelve hundred. Of the capacity of improvement of this class of unfortunates, the Trustees' report speaks as follows:—"The trial of three years has been satisfactory, and has abundantly disproved the common notion that idiots are incapable of improvement."

Twenty-seven pupils have been received into the incorporated school, averaging twelve years of age, which, the report states, is too old an age for the most favorable results to follow, from five to ten years being the ages at which the greatest improvement is to be expected. Many of the pupils were not in the enjoyment of good health, and seventeen were dumb. But notwithstanding these unfavorable circumstances, the results of the training of the idiots are quite gratifying.

Out of twenty-one who could not feed themselves, ten have greatly improved, and ten others were removed too soon to admit of much improvement.

Thirteen who were filthy in their habits, have improved very much. Two who could not sit erect, have learned to sit at a table. Three who could not walk without assistance, had experienced a great change in this respect. Eight who could not dress themselves, are now able to perform this act without assistance. Four who were dumb, have learned to talk, and two who used only single words, now can put words into sentences. Eight who did not know their letters, can now make out single sentences and some can read simple stories.

The institution was incorporated in 1850, and in 1851 an annual appropriation of $5000 was made by the Legislature, provided that thirty pupils should be educated. The services of the celebrated Dr. Edward Seguin, of Paris, have been obtained, for a length of time sufficient to introduce his method of training.

From the sixth annual report of the Trustees of this School we gather the following facts respecting the condition of the institution.

During the year, 474 boys have been inmates of the establishment, 341 of whom remained at the close of 1852. Of the 133 discharged, 70 have been indented to farmers and mechanics, and 39 have been returned to their parents, or otherwise provided with homes.

155 have been committed during the year, 37 of whom were from the county of Suffolk, and 32 from Worcester county. Of the whole number committed, 48 were for larceny, and 76 for stubbornness. 140 were between the ages of 9 and 16. Average age about 13 years. A little more than one third of the whole number admitted since the institution was founded have been of foreign parentage.

The boys are required to rise at 5 o'clock, and to attend prayers at a quarter before 6. They labor 6 hours, and study 4 hours daily, and are allowed 3 hours for taking their meals, and recreation. 98 of the boys have been employed in the shoe shop, 90 in tailoring, and 65 in out-of-door labors. 114 of those received during the year have been instructed in reading, spelling, and the first principles of arithmetic, in geography and writing, and the remainder in still higher branches.

Of the 341 remaining in the institution, 269 have studied practical arithmetic, and 134 the higher parts of arithmetical science; 255 have studied geography; 60 grammar; 30 history; and 286 are able to write.

130 have attended Sabbath Schools regularly or occasionally during the year, and have committed to memorynearly 140,000 verses of scripture.

Very favorable reports have been received from those having charge of quite a number of the former inmates of the institution.

NEW ENGLAND SCHOOL OF DESIGN FOR WOMEN.

10 Summer street, Boston. Incorporated, 1853.

Samuel G. Ward, Treasurer; Mrs. Ednah D. Cheney, Secretary; Albert F. Bellows, Principal; Mrs. Jane F. Clark, Assistant.

From the annual Report of this Association, issued October 4, 1853, it appears that there were at that time seventy-eight pupils in the school, engaged in the various branches of drawing, engraving, &c. The average number of pupils for the year has been 62.

Twenty-one of the pupils have employment by which they are contributing to their own support at the factories at Lowell and elsewhere. The friends of this institution have good reason to be satisfied with the success of its operation. It has been the means of bringing out and improving much talent which might have lain dormant or have been wasted on unproductive trifles, and has also opened a new field of labor for women altogether suitable for them. The Secretary, Mrs. E. D. Cheney, in the report states that she regards the experiment of the schools so far as having proved, —

"1. That there is a large class of young women who are prepared to pursue the practical branches taught here with earnestness, and to whom the existence of the school is a great boon.

2. That there is ability enough in a large portion of the pupils to insure their earning a good living by the practice of the branches taught, and in some, or even in many, a very superior talent, which it is important to the community at large, and especially to all manufacturers requiring designers, to foster and encourage.

3. That there is the power in the school as now organized, to accomplish the results aimed at, and extend their benefits indefinitely, if suitably provided with funds."

The following resolve was passed by the last legislature: —

"Resolved, That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars annually, for three years from the first day of June next, be appropriated to the support of the New England School of Design for Women, and paid in quarterly payments; the said amount to be deducted from the proceeds of the public lands, set apart as a school fund, according to the provisions of the act of the year 1846, chapter 219; and that his Excellency the Governor be authorized to draw his warrant accordingly."

From the treasurer's report of the receipts and expenditures of the school, we make the following abstract: —

AGRICULTURE, HORTICULTURE, &c.

From time immemorial the praises of agriculture have been sung. Among the ancient Egyptians, so great was the regard of the people for the products of mother earth, that they were dignified by being rendered objects of worship. Ceres, the goddess of corn and the harvest, was one of the favorite divinities of the inhabitants of that grand rendezvous of art, beauty, and learning, the proud city of Athens.

We are pleased to perceive among the residents of her modern namesake, — the Athens of America,— a copying of her example in this respect; not literally, but in that great and growing interest with which many of the inhabitants of Boston regard the subject of agriculture.

If Cincinnatus was called from his plough to administer to the affairs of State of the greatest of ancient republics, surely our sturdy republicans may not feel ashamed to be interested in that subject, which has already engrossed the attention of many of our leading citizens.

Our merchants and our mechanics alike covet the blessings of a country residence. The former hesitates not to expend his thousands in the beautifying of the grounds which compose his retreat from the cares and bustle of business. The latter longs to enjoy a quiet home in the country, but alas! too often this anticipated residence is illusory, like the grapes that hung beyond the reach of Reynard's thirsty lips.

The city ladies also manifest their love for rural products by monthly visiting that grand temple of nature's choicest productions — Horticultural Hall. Many of them aspire to the occupancy of a little spot in the country, where occasionally at least, they can forsake the embellishments of art, and gather the fresh roses which shall leave their own beautiful impress upon their delicate cheeks. "Huge paw," is no longer an opprobrious epithet, bestowed upon the clownish yeoman; but all classes are alike becoming convinced that nature and art are designed to be united with as firm a ligature as that which binds the "Siamese Twins" in loving fellowship.

Our Legislature, partaking of the same spirit, has provided for the enlargement of the people's prosperity by encouraging in them a love for the cultivation of the earth.

Massachusetts is not a "one idea" State. If she excels others in her financial operations and in her religious and benevolent movements, she does not neglect her agricultural interests. She has established a regular agricultural bureau, from the records of which we are able to present a few items of interesting information respecting the events that have transpired in connection with the all important art of husbandry.

Although Massachusetts is preëminently a manufacturing State, yet her enterprising sons have not entirely forsaken the culture of her sterile soil. Hard may be her fields, and scanty the harvests gathered therefrom, but harder are the hands of her yeomanry, and firmer is their stout grasp of their implements of husbandry, as they think of even that poor fruit of their arduous toil.

But the various improvements annually introduced into this noble art, are rendering it less and less of a task to cultivate our rocky soil; and the day is not far distant when "Yankee" ingenuity will have overcome the herculean difficulties that have heretofore attended the labor of the farmer on our hardy soil; and the weary tiller will be able, a portion of the day at least, to "sit under his own vine and fig-tree," without being "molested or made afraid" by the hauntings of the gloomy spectre of anticipated poverty.

From the report for May, 1853, of the Secretary pro tem. of the "State Board of Agriculture," we learn that there are 14 Agricultural Societies in the Commonwealth, besides one State Society, all of which, except the latter, hold annual exhibitions.

These exhibitions are seasons of great interest to the whole section of country in which they are held; and add much to the real value of the farming interests of the State, by encouraging a spirit of generous emulation, which results in the discovery of new and improved methods of tilling the soil, and in elevating the whole subject of agriculture to the dignity of what it is fast becoming — a scientific art.

The beauty of the fruit exhibited at these autumnal fairs has also awakened a strong desire among the lovers of fine fruits, to perfect the culture of this superior article of dietetic luxury. It is astonishing to witness the success of the efforts put forth to exalt nature in this respect.

But we are intruding upon our statistics. We give the premiums and gratuities of the several associations that met in 1852, arranging the societies in alphabetical order.

Barnstable Society. This society awarded premiums and gratuities as follows:— 8 for the best specimens of agriculture in raising grain; 6 for superior sheep and swine. Rain prevented the assemblage of many cattle. Fruit very fine. Number of premiums not stated. Display of fancy articles good.

Berkshire County. Exhibition of horses unusually fine; 22 premiums and gratuities awarded. 10 for cattle; 16 for sheep. Fruits very abundant, and 6 premiums awarded. Butter and cheese very fine, 8 premiums; 12 premiums on manufactured articles, and 12 for superior ploughing. Display of grain and roots, very good; 56 premiums and gratuities awarded.

Bristol County. Premiums and gratuities as follows:—15 on horses, 46 on cattle, 15 on fowls, 6 sheep, 7 swine, 3 grain, 14 bread, butter, and honey; 1 for the best farm, 1 for ornamental trees, 6 best planted forest trees not less than a thousand in number, 32 for fruits and flowers, and 100 on articles of domestic manufacture, principally to the ladies. The exhibition on the whole surpassed any former one.

Essex County. 16 premiums on poultry, 2 on sheep, 4 on swine, 9 horses, 28 cattle of all kinds, 7 on ploughing, 5 for ploughs, 4 butter, no cheese offered, 4 premiums on roots, 4 on grain, and 41 on fruits.

There were 7000 people present at the hall, and $700 were received as admission fees. The display of fruits was unusually large and fine. That of vegetables, a little superior to last year's. Neat stock deficient, but swine very fine. The ploughing match was never more spirited in the county. Poultry rather deficient. Only 2 flocks of sheep represented the 5000 in the county. Grain and root crops rather poorly represented. Only one farm entered which obtained a gratuity.

Franklin County. Not so many sheep raised for their wool as formerly, but more for slaughter. One person sold a pair in Boston Market for $100, and another sold 62 for $9 a pair; 9 premiums on cattle, one pair of 6 years old steers, weighing 5,555 lbs. Hens quite meagre. Bread and butter obtained 9 premiums, and grain and roots, 12. Skilful ploughers obtained 5 premiums. The display of vegetables very profuse; but fruits were quiet slim — 18 premiums bestowed upon both.

Hampshire, Franklin, and Hampden Society. One farm obtained a premium, 25 horses also obtained premiums, and for poultry, 20 premiums were given. The display of cattle and sheep was very meagre; that of swine quite good. Bread and butter average. Horses fine.

Hampshire County. Two farms obtained premiums. Three premiums awarded for fruit. Display of butter very fine, that of roots small. Wheat growing has became quite successful in this county.

Hampden County. Collection of cattle very large, 70 premiums in all awarded. Horses numerous, and obtained 27 premiums. Swine received 11, sheep 10, and fowls 12.

Housatonic Society. Cattle very numerous, 45 premiums bestowed on all kinds. Grain and roots abundant, receiving 44 premiums. Horses received 20, sheep 18, and swine and poultry 14 premiums; 14 premiums were awarded to fine ploughing.

Middlesex. The display of stock was very fine. An unusually large quantity of fruit and vegetables was presented, also a great display of manufactured articles.

Norfolk County. Cattle abundant, 40 premiums bestowed. Poultry received 20, swine 13, sheep 1, grain 7, horses 7, and fruits and flowers, 7 premiums; 11 persons obtained the prize for superior ploughing, and one farm was deemed worthy of a premium; 5 persons were awarded premiums for their skill in spading.

Plymouth County. 15 persons succeeded in obtaining premiums for superior ploughing, 7 for fine horses, 8 for superior swine, and over 30 for cows. Butter and cheese drew 7 prizes, and grain and vegetables 47, many of which prizes, however, were of small value.

Worcester County. Roots carried the day over the swine, sheep, poultry, butter and cheese, the display of which was quite small. The working oxen were very superior. Ploughs equalled last year's. Very large display of vegetables.

Worcester, West. Large collection of cattle of all kinds, and swine, grain, roots, butter and cheese, very superior in quality. Good display of manufactured articles of delicate workmanship. Exhibition of fruits exceeded all expectations.

We might pursue this subject to a greater length, but propriety warns us to desist. We therefore leave it, merely remarking that deep tillage, by means of the sub-soil plough, and the reclaimage of marshy ground, is at present occupying much of the attention of our worthy farmers. It is to be hoped that the steam plough that has accomplished such wonders in England, reducing the expense of ploughing 75 per cent., will ere long be introduced here, and thus enable the ploughman to turn a deeper and broader furrow than the most sanguine of the contenders at the exciting ploughing match have ever dared to anticipate.

We cannot close this article more appropriately than by quoting the following beautiful fragment from the address of Horace Greeley, at the Fair of the Indiana State Agricultural Society.

"As for me, long-tossed on the stormiest waves of doubtful conflict and arduous endeavor, I have begun to feel, since the shades of forty years fell upon me, the weary, tempest-driven voyager's longing for land, the wanderer's yearning for the hamlet where, in childhood, he nestled by his mother's knees and was soothed to sleep on her breast. The sober down-hill of life dispels many illusions, while it develops or strengthens within us the attachment, perhaps long smothered or overlaid, for 'that dear hut, our home.' And so I, in the sober afternoon of life, when its sun, if not high, is still warm, have bought a few acres of land in the broad, still country, and, bearing thither my household treasurers, have resolved to steal from the city's labors and anxieties at least one day in each week, wherein to revive as a farmer the memories of my childhood's humble home.

"And already I realize that the experiment cannot cost so much as it is worth. Already I find in that day's quiet an antidote and a solace for the feverish, festering cares of the weeks which environ it. Already my brook murmurs a soothing even-song to my burning, throbbing brain; and my trees, gently stirred by the fresh breezes, whisper to my spirit something of their own quiet strength and patient trust in God. And thus do I faintly realize, but for a brief and fitting day, the serene joy which shall irradiate the farmer's vocation, when a fuller and truer education shall have refined and chastened his animal cravings, and when Science shall have endowed him with her treasures, redeeming labor from drudgery while quadrupling its efficiency, and crowning with beauty and plenty our bounteous, beneficent earth."

In the early part of the year 1852 a Committee of the Government of the Association was appointed to confer with Joseph T. Buckingham, in regard to a history of their organization he had proposed to write, and so far change his plan, as to furnish them with the work in order that it might be printed at the expense of the Association for distribution among its members. This the author readily assented to, and the result of his labors is a handsome octavo volume of 440 pages, bearing the following modest title page: "Annals of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association. Compiled by Joseph T. Buckingham. The work is of a highly interesting character. It is not only the annals of the Association, but a history of many leading events of the time from 1795 to 1853, the most important era in the history of Boston.

The roll of the Association has always borne the names of some of our best and most respected citizens.

Sixteen Presidents have presided over the Association for the past fifty-nine years, all of whom have been men highly respected and of unblemished reputation, viz.: Paul Revere, 4 years; Jonathan Hunnewell, 9 years; Benjamin Russell, 14 years; John Cotton, 3 years; Samuel Perkins, 2 years; Charles Wells, 1 year; Samuel T. Armstrong, 2 years; Daniel Messenger, 2 years; Joseph T. Buckingham, 3 years; Stephen Fairbanks, 3 years; George Darracott, 2 years; Joseph Lewis, 3 years; Jas. Clark, 2 years; Geo. G. Smith, 3 years; Henry N. Hooper, 3 years; Jonas Chickering, 3 years; the last of whom is the only one, we believe, who died while in office.—Evening Transcript.

Once in three years the Managers of the Association hold an exhibition of great magnitude. Preparations are made for the exhibition on an extended scale, and the fair continues about 2 1-2 weeks. This year the whole number of contributors was not far from 2500, many of whom furnished a large number of articles. The articles exhibited were considered of superior value to those of preceding years, although not quite so numerous as on some former occasions. Twenty gold, and one hundred and twenty silver medals, were awarded by the Association.

One hundred and ten bronze medals were conferred upon various individuals; and about two hundred and forty diplomas upon numerous aspirants to the society's honors. As usual, all articles that contribute to the useful and ornamental, were liberally represented. It is supposed by some that the bestowment of the prizes does not always harmonize with the merits of the articles; but from such a vast collection of goods, it is exceedingly difficult to select 500 articles that deserve a prize, while the remainder of the thousands of articles exhibited are neglected. The most that the judges can do, is to exercise impartial wisdom and honest judgment, both of which we doubt not they possess, from what we know of their high standing and character in the community.

The amount received from the sale of tickets was $19,000; and it is estimated that not far from 100,000 persons visited the fair during the continuance of the exhibition.

HISTORICAL AND COMMEMORATIVE ASSOCIATIONS.

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY, WORCESTER.

Incorporated 1812. The American Antiquarian Society, established for the purpose of collecting and preserving the materials of history, more especially American History, was incorporated by the Legislature of Massachusetts, in 1812.

Isaiah Thomas, the distinguished Printer and Publisher, and author of "The History of Printing in America," was the first President, and has been the greatest benefactor of this institution. A brick edifice for the Library and Cabinet, erected at his expense, was completed in 1820. His private collection of books, which was a very considerable one, became the basis of the Library. Extensive additions were made to the building after his death, from resources provided by his will; and the principal portion of the funds of the Society, now amounting to more than $27,000, resulted from his bequests.

The Library of the Society now exceeds 16,000 volumes. Its cabinet contains many articles of curiosity and interest: and its manuscripts, coins, &c., are of considerable value. Two volumes of Transactions, and a catalogue of the Library, have been published; and a third volume of Transactions is in preparation for the press.

There are two meetings of the Society in the year; one at Worcester, on the 23d day of October, in commemoration of the discovery of America by Columbus, the other in Boston, on the last Wednesday of each month, at the Antiquarian Hall, in Worcester.

This institution originated in a conviction that the interests of Congregationalism, and of Christianity in general, would be advanced by collecting into one accessible place whatever printed or manuscript memorials of the New England Fathers are yet extant, and also such documents of the present age as will be of historical value in the ages to come. It was organized in Boston on the 12th of February, 1851. The enterprise, however, was conducted on a comparatively small scale, till, by a re-organization in May, 1853, its privileges were extended to the whole body of Evangelical Congregationalists throughout the continent, and their co-operation invited.

Its chief design, in the words of the constitution, is "to found and perpetuate a Library of books, pamphlets and manuscripts, and a collection of portraits, and whatever else shall serve to illustrate Puritan history and promote the general interests of Congregationalism;" as also "to secure the erection of a suitable building for its Library, its meetings, and the general purposes of the body." The terms of membership are one dollar only, — with the reasonable expectation that each member will interest himself in preserving from destruction and transmitting to the Library such documents, bearing on the general objects of the Association, as may come in his way.

The By-Laws provide for "a sermon, oration, or address" at each anniversary, "on the Tuesday preceding the 4th Wednesday in May," — to be followed the next day by "a collation, accompanied by such exercises as the Directors may prescribe." There are also three other meetings of the body each year viz.: — "on the last Tuesday of August, November and February." The Directors meet monthly, and report annually.

No book, pamphlet or periodical can be taken from the Library; but the room is open to the members at all hours during the day — Sundays excepted — for reading, reference and consultation, and a Librarian is ever on hand to assist their inquiries.

Since the organization in May, 1853, about 450 members have enrolled their names, residents in all parts of the continent where Congregational churches are found, from California to Canada. The shelves of the Library already contain about 1,500 volumes and more than 4,000 pamphlets, including deposits made by the American Statistical Association, and a few private individuals, besides many duplicate numbers and incomplete sets of old periodicals, and an assortment of the current dailies, weeklies and monthlies. The manuscript department, though not large, contains some rare specimens; and portraits of the Fathers are beginning to adorn the walls of the Library.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

HON. EDWARD EVERETT, LL. D., President of the Board; GEORGE TICKNOR, LL. D., HON. JOHN P. BIGELOW, NATHANIEL B. SHURTLEFF, M. D., THOMAS G. APPLETON, Esq., from the Citizens at large; Alderman SAMPSON REED; and GEORGE W. WARREN, Esq., of the Common Council.

Librarian, Edward Capen; Assistant Librarian, Samuel M. Bedlington.

As the Public will soon enjoy the privileges of this Institution, we cannot do better than state what they are, for the information of our readers.

The plan of the Trustees embraces a Reading Room and a Circulating Library. The Reading Room will be open from 9 A. M. to 9, 30 P. M., and will afford, free of expense, a place of resort to all the inhabitants of Boston, above the age of sixteen years, who will sign a promise to obey the rules and regulations. Those who make use of it will find spread out before them, upon tables conveniently arranged for reading and writing, the leading weekly, monthly and quarterly Journals of the United States and Great Britain, together with a goodly selection in the French and German Languages. They will also be able to consult and read at all times, any book in the Reference Library, and, at such times as it may not be in home use, any book in the Circulating Library.

The Circulating Library will be open from 3 to 8 o'clock P. M., and will freely afford its treasures for home use, under certificates applicable to each case, to past and present members of the City Council; to office holders under the City Government and all persons regularly employed by the City; to all officiating ministers of the Gospel, teachers of Private Schools and members of the Normal School; to all medal scholars, and an equal number of pupils proficient in their studies graduating with them from the Public Schools; and to all the inhabitants of Boston over the age of twenty-one years, who are known to the Librarian to be persons who ought to enjoy the privileges of the Library. These treasures will also be accessible to all non-resident donors of one hundred dollars or an equivalent; to all who will deposit the value of a book or set of books, for the time being; and to all, finally, who will bring a certificate from a responsible citizen, who thereby makes himself liable for loss and injury.

It is the wish of the Trustees to have a supply of reading adapted to the profession and calling of all classes of citizens, and with this in view, they have earnestly asked to be furnished with the title of any desirable book, the purchase of which will then depend upon its character and their judgment of the wants and means of the Institution.

We cannot go into further detail without exceeding our limits. We have gone far enough to show that a free Library, embracing in its plan the broad domains of science, literature, and art, will be accessible to all the inhabitants of a great City capable of appreciating its treasures, at first with twelve thousand volumes, but, in its funds and friends, having the means of a rapid extension, that will soon enable it to hold the first rank among the Beneficent and Benevolent Institutions of Boston.

Dr. Jacob Ide, Mrs. Anna Goulding, Directresses.

College at 274 Washington street. Secretary's office 15 Cornhill.

The New England Female Medical College was opened in 1848; being, by the period of two years, the first institution of the kind in America. It is conducted and sustained by the Female Medical Education Society, organized in the same year, and incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature, for the purpose indicated by the name of the association. The officers of the Society are, of course, the officers of the college.

Above eighty pupils have been connected with the college since its commencement. Most of them, having confined their attention chiefly to obstetrical practice, have been very successfully employed. One in this city has attended above three hundred cases during the past three years.

The term of the New England Female Medical College commences on the first Wednesday of November annually, and continues four months. The professors are regularly and thoroughly educated medical men, of approved standing in the profession. Their names and departments of instruction are as follows:—

William M. Cornell, M. D., Physiology, Hygiene, and Medical Jurisprudence; Enoch C. Rolfe, M. D., Chemistry; Stephen Tracy, M. D., Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children; John P. Litchfield, M. D., Principles and Practice of Medicine; John K. Palmer, M. D., Materia Medica and General Therapeutics; Henry M. Cobb, M. D., Anatomy and Surgery.

The college rooms are in the new and spacious edifice, 274 Washington street, a few doors north of Bedford street.

Gentlemen and ladies become members of the Society by the payment of one dollar annually, and life-members by the payment of twenty dollars, at one time or in several payments. It is optional with the annual members to continue one year or more. The Society has above a hundred life-members, and some five thousand have paid the fee of annual membership for one year or more.

The Society has above a thousand dollars worth of apparatus,—two dissecting manikins, and a variety of other articles imported from Paris; also anatomical preparations, drawings, &c. The members have access to the rooms, and are entitled to copies of the Society's annual report.

A subscription paper has been started to raise $30,000, to purchase a suitable lot of land, provide a building, furniture, library, &c. A gentleman has headed it with $1000, and a lady has subscribed $500, and others have expressed their intention to aid in making up the amount.

Annual meeting of the Society on the 2d Thursday in May.

According to the last annual report of this Society's operations there have been 67 new societies formed, principally in the Southern and Western States, making the whole number of societies auxiliary to the Parent Society over 2,800.

Sixty-five Life Directors, and 1,318 Life Members, have been added to the Society during the year.

The receipts of the year amount to $316,542.42, which is an increase of $37,797.61 above the amount of last year. The amount received from legacies is $34,522.24.

The number of Bibles printed during the year is 266,000, of Testaments 575,500. Total number of books issued since the organization of the Society, 9,088,352.

Thirty-nine Agents have been employed during the year, two of whom have died, while the remainder have discharged their duties faithfully, and have met with more than ordinary success in their labors. Three of the Vice Presidents, and two of the Managers have also died during the year.

During the year a magnificent building has been erected, for the occupancy of the Society as a Depository, printing-house, &c.

This building covers about 3-4 of an acre of land, and is situated near the central part of the city, being bounded by the Fourth Avenue, Astor Place, Third Avenue, and Ninth Street. It is six stories in height, and the length of the front in Fourth Avenue, the principal entrance, is 198 feet. This entrance "is decorated with four round columns with Corinthian capitals, and moulded bases, resting upon panelled and moulded pedestals," "The whole of the building is faced with Philadelphia pressed bricks, and surmounted by a cornice, formed with ornamental trusses, blocks, panels, &c."

The whole cost of the building, including the land, was not far from $250,000, which expense is not defrayed from funds contributed for Bible distribution, but from other resources, the principal of which, was the sale of the old establishment and grounds, which had doubled in value since purchased by the Society.

The funds received during the year, have been expended as follows.

Expenses of Depository and publishing department, about - - -	$275,000
Salaries, and expenses of Agents, and other officers, - -	42,000
For the circulation of the Bible in foreign lands, - - -	29,000
	$346,000

The Bibles and Testaments printed, have been distributed in all parts of the world.

The last report of this Society states that the receipts of the previous year were $135,000, and the expenditures about the same. Nine agents have been employed during the year, who have visited and attended 1200 churches and public meetings, a larger number than have been visited in any previous year.

Two periodicals have been issued, with a monthly circulation of 42,200 copies. Four missionaries have been appointed during the year, and two gentlemen have been deputed to visit the Eastern mission under the care of the Association.

The number of missions under the direction of the Board is 19, embracing 200 stations and out-stations, besides 400 places of stated preaching in France and Germany.

There are 130 missionaries and assistants, and 205 natives employed at the various stations. The number of churches belonging to the missions is 182. Number of church members, 14,253. During the past year 1,361 new members have been added to the churches.

The missions support 82 schools, which contain 2,063 pupils.

The forty-fourth Annual Meeting of this Association occurred in October last. The doings of the Society are in brief as follows:

Fifty-four missionaries, forty-three of whom were for the first time employed, have been sent forth upon foreign missions. Thirteen are now under appointments, and "yet," says the report, "there never was such a loud and piercing cry for help from all parts of the unevangelized world."

Three publications have been, as usual, regularly issued during the year, the circulation of which has been 82,337 copies. Of other works, there have been published 28,000 copies. Nine Agents have been, and are still employed by the Association; in addition to which much labor has been expended by returned missionaries.

The receipts of the past year, including a small balance on hand, have been $314,922.88, all of which amount, except about $4000, has been expended.

Says the report, "the number of young men in our colleges and seminaries who have their eye on the foreign field, is quite too small."

During the year nine missionaries have left the scene of their earthly labors.

The Board have at present under their care twenty-eight missions, with 149 stations and out-stations, at which 389 missionaries and their assistants are employed, besides 231 Natives, or a total of 620 laborers.

The whole number of churches connected with the missions is 103, containing 25,714 members. The number of members admitted to all the churches during the year is 2016, 1600 of whom were added to the churches of the Sandwich Islands. Of the twenty-eight missions, about one-half report no accessions to the churches.

The number of pages printed during the year is 37,127,251. The number of pupils in all the schools connected with the missions is 23,152, of whom 11,771 are supported at school by the Hawaiian Government.

AMERICAN EDUCATION SOCIETY.

Rev. Heman Humphrey, D. D., President. John Tappan, Esq., Vice President. Rev. George W. Blagden, D. D., Ebenezer Alden, M. D., Rev. William A. Stearns, Hon. Joel Giles, Julius A. Palmer, Esq., Rev. Jared B. Waterbury, D. D., Rev. Seth Sweetser, Rev. William I. Budington, Rev. Daniel R. Cady, Rev. Increase N. Tarbox, Rev. Samuel C. Jackson, D. D., Directors. Rev. Increase N. Tarbox, Secretary. Stephen T. Farwell, Esq., Treasurer. Hardy Ropes, Esq , Auditor.

The following is a brief statement of the doings of this Society, for the last year of which there has been a report.

There have been $19,823.12 expended during the year, of which sum $17,270 have been appropriated to the aid of students, and the balance to expenses of office, salaries of officers, and to the Central American Education Society.

Three hundred and eight students have been aided from the treasury in Boston; being fourteen more than the number of last year's beneficiaries. About three-fourths of the young men aided, have pursued their studies at institutions located in the New England States.

Over one-half of these young men are residents of New England; and the larger part of the remainder, of New York and Ohio. Connecticut and Vermont furnish a larger number of young men, in proportion to their population, than the other New England States.

During the year, thirty-two of the beneficiaries of the Society have closed their studies; and have entered, or are ready to enter, upon the work of the ministry. Seventy-nine new applicants during the year have been enrolled upon the lists for aid.

The number of beneficiaries has not increased as much as the Society deems the "wants of the case" to demand; but the increase has been not inconsiderable. The Society formerly extended its aid to students not yet entered upon a collegiate course, but now it confines its charities to collegiate and theological students. Only one young man has failed to receive the approbation of the Society for "Christian order and consistency." The beneficiaries have earned nearly as much as has been granted them by the Society, and $1,213.20 have been received from the former recipients of the Society's charity; $452 of which, were from a California pastor, being the principal and interest of the amount received by him from the Society.

It is the practice of the Society to release those of its beneficiaries who enter the foreign missionary field, from all pecuniary obligations to the Society; notwithstanding which, two of the Ceylon and one of the Syrian missionaries, have refunded a portion of the money advanced to them; the latter thus contributing to the funds of the Society, $150.

One hundred and thirty-four, or one-half of all the missionaries of the "American Board" in foreign lands, have been aided by the Society.

The report states that the supply of ministers falls far short of the increasing demand; 248 churches in New England being destitute of pastors. The report says, "certain it is, that there is a steady decline in regard to an adequate supply of ministers for the churches within the borders of New England;" and attributes this decline to a want of pecuniary inducement to enter the ranks of the ministry; but says, "the minds that can be effectually reached by another and a far higher class of motives, are the minds which we most desire to influence and direct toward the work of the ministry."

At the last annual meeting of this Society, held in New York city, May 11th, 1853, a report of its doings was presented, from which we gather a few items of information.

The number of ministers in the service of the Society is 1,087, of whom 713 have labored in New England, and the remainder, except twelve, in the Middle and Western States The aggregate of ministerial labor has been equal to 878 years. Two thousand one hundred and sixty societies and stations have been supplied with preaching by the Society; seventy one of which have been addressed in foreign languages.

Connected with these societies are 72,500 Sunday School scholars. The additions to the churches have been 6,079; more than one-half of whom are recent converts. These societies have contributed to benevolent operations, $27,905.

Forty-seven new churches have been organized; and fifty-four houses of worship erected.

The expenditures of the year have been $174,439.24, which amount is nearly covered by the receipts of the year.

During the year, six missionaries have departed this life. Since the establishment of the Society in 1826, 14,836 years of labor have been performed by its missionaries; about $2,500,000 have been expended, averaging about $167 for each year of missionary labor. During the whole time, 120,080 persons have been added to the churches under the patronage of the Society.

The Society perceives the finger of God pointing the victims of false religion and ignorance in Europe, to this country, as an asylum, where they can, in addition to temporal blessings, obtain the far more durable riches of a knowledge of God and his Son Jesus Christ.

Says the report:—"Thus, in the wonderful arrangements of Heaven, our Home Missions become missions to the dwellers on the banks of the Danube and the Rhone; we set up our schools, our presses, and build our churches for Savoyards and Austrians; and distribute God's holy word, and preach without fear of chains and prisons, to the subjects of the King of the Sicilies, and even of the Grand Duke of Tuscany."

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY, BOSTON.

John Tappan, President. Rev. Seth Bliss, Secretary. N. P. Kemp, Agent and Treasurer. Depository, 28 Cornhill.

The operations of this Society, as reported at the last annual meeting, held in Boston in May, 1853, are briefly as follows.

One hundred and fifty-seven new publications have been issued in ten different languages, making the total number of the Society's publications, 1,832. Besides these, thirty-eight publications have been issued at foreign stations.

The total number of copies of books published during the year, is 700,000; besides 6,370,000 copies of Tracts in English, and 1,446,000 in foreign languages, and 280,000 copies of the Christian Almanac, 30,000 of which were in German.

Two monthly newspapers have been published in English with a circulation of 450,000 copies; and one in German, which circulates 25,000 copies. The cost of these three papers has been $44,442.47.

Three travelling Secretaries and nineteen colporteurs have been employed during the year; the latter of whom have sold about $5.000 worth of books, and given away over $800 worth more. They have visited 20,825 families, of which 5,396 neglect public worship; 1,873 were destitute of religious books, except the Bible; and 424 were destitute of the Bible.

In some parts of the country visited, nearly as much ignorance of even the historical truths of Christianity was found, as exists among the heathen.

This Society confines its labors mostly to the New England States, but is closely connected with the Society whose head quarters are at New York, and which occupies the whole Union as its field of labor. This latter Society employs 642 colporteurs, who have visited during the year 3,252,089 families; 28,243 of which were destitute of the Bible, and 54,000 of other religious books.

The expenditures for the year have been over $385,000. Since the commencement of the colportage enterprise, three million, two hundred and fifty-two thousand and eighty-nine families have been visited. A large number of collegiate and theological students engage in this work during their vacations; and afterwards have acknowledged themselves under great obligation to this service, for much of the animation they have been called upon to manifest in the more dignified fields of missionary labor.

THE THURSDAY LECTURE.

This Lecture was commenced by John Cotton, second Pastor of the First Church in Boston, in 1623, and at first sustained by himself alone. Afterwards, by courtesy, it came to be preached by each of the ministers of the Boston Association in turn. In the year 1845, the Association gave it back into the hands of the Pastor of the First Church, to whom, by right, it still belonged. By his invitation the following gentlemen assist in sustaining the Lecture. It is preached by them in the order of their college graduation, in the Chauncy Place meeting-house on every Thursday at 11 A. M.

STATE ALMS HOUSES.

An Act was passed by the General Court in May, 1852, authorizing the appointment of three commissioners, to select and purchase sites for the erection of three pauper establishments, capable of accommodating each five hundred inmates, a superintendent, and subordinate officers; one to be in Middlesex or Essex, another in Plymouth or Bristol, and the third somewhere west of Brookfield; and to erect the buildings and workshops and buy land in connection with them. On the completion of the buildings, the towns and cities shall send to them all their State paupers, viz.: those in Suffolk, Middlesex and Essex to the first; Norfolk, Plymouth, Bristol, Barnstable, Nantucket and Dukes to the second, and the others to the third mentioned. No city or town to receive any payment or allowance for the support of State paupers after thirty days from the Governor's proclamation of the completion of the buildings. The Governor and Council shall appoint a superintendent for each institution, with a salary of $1000, and the right to reside with his family in the building; and three inspectors for each, with salaries of $100 each—one of whom shall visit his institution at least once a week: these inspectors to have some of the powers of overseers of the poor. The cities and towns shall be allowed ten cents a mile for transporting paupers to the institutions. Any pauper deserting one of the institutions, and found anywhere in the State, within a year, soliciting charity, shall be liable to three months' imprisonment in the House of Correction. The inspectors shall audit the accounts and make annual reports. The Commissioners are authorized to fit up the Commonwealth's buildings on Rainsford's Island for the accommodation of sick paupers arriving by water—at an expense not to exceed $5000. The issue of scrip is authorized to the amount of $100,000, with semi-annual interest, the principal payable within twenty years—to defray the expenses of the buildings and purchases; and $3000 annually is to be reserved from the receipts from alien passengers, to constitute a sinking fund for the redemption of this scrip. The whole expenses not to exceed the amount of scrip and premiums.

In accordance with the above Act, the three following gentlemen were appointed by the Governor and Council, to be

Commissioners concerning Paupers having no Legal Settlement in the State.

David Perkins, of Fall River, Edward L. Keyes, of Dedham, James I. Maguire, of Lowell.

In May, 1853, an Act was passed appropriating $60,000 as follows: $15,462 to pay excess of contracts and expenditures of the Commissioners above the appropriation of 1852; $39,537.86 for furnishing, equipping, &c., the three pauper establishments which have been erected, and $5,000 for completing repairs on and furnishing buildings at Rainsford's Island.

These Alms Houses are located as follows, and the following Inspectors and Superintendents were appointed in Nov. 1853.

By an act of the last Legislature, an important change was made in the Judiciary of this State. The District Courts, which took the place of old Courts of Common Pleas, were abolished; and all their jurisdiction transferred to the Supreme Judicial Court, to which bench three additional judges were authorized by the above act. The State is now divided into three Judicial Districts, denominated the Western, Middle, and Eastern Districts; and for the purpose of hearing and determining questions of law and equity, the terms are held for these districts, instead of being held, as heretofore, in the several counties. These terms are held annually in Portland for the Western, in Augusta for the Middle, and in Bangor for the Eastern District. The other cases are tried, as heretofore, in the several counties where they are commenced.

POPULATION OF NEW ENGLAND.

The Act of Congress under which the United States Census for 1850 was taken, established the rule which was to be adopted for the apportionment of members for the 33d Congress, and until the taking of the next census. That rule limited the number of the members of the House to 233, and provided that the ratio of apportionment should be obtained by dividing the aggregate population of the Union, as ascertained by the new census, after deducting therefrom two-fifths of the whole number of slaves, by 233. The population of each State was then to be divided by the ratio so obtained, and the last quotient would show the number of members to which the State would be entitled, besides which, however, those States to which the largest fractions belonged, after the division, were to be entitled to one additional member, until the whole number of 233 should be made up. This apportionment was made, and the result certified by the Secretary of the Interior.

We give below, according to the United States Census of 1850, the population of the States of Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. The population of Massachusetts may be found in the table of Gubernatorial Votes, Population, &c.

THE NATIONAL HORSE EXHIBITION.

For many years past, the crowding events of the busy harvest season have been spiced with pleasure by the annually recurring exhibitions of the various agricultural societies of the Commonwealth. These give a zest to business, and render more active the labors of the husbandman and the housewife.

So far as can be learned, the domestic fowl is the only animal that has yet been deemed worthy of a separate exhibition, by which it could more fully display its gallinaceous merits. But the neighing of the horse has at last silenced the shriller voice of the cock, and this year, in lieu of a hen convention, we have had a famous exhibition of horses.

The plan was conceived of by George M. Atwater, of Springfield, to whose indefatigable labors in behalf of the horse, the holding of the first convention in his favor was owing. Unlike many conventions, however, where the object defended is not present to speak for himself, this one was made up in part of the noblest specimens of this willing servant of man, that could be collected throughout the length and breadth of the land. The convention assembled in Springfield, Mass., October 19, and continued three days. The number of horses exhibited was about 500. Prizes were awarded to about 90, amount to $3000 in value. It is estimated that on the last day, over 15,000 persons were present, among whom were many distinguished characters, such as Gov. Clifford, Seymour, Colby and Floyd, Abbott Lawrence, Judge Wayne, of Ga., John M. Botts, of Virginia, John Jay, of New York, and other dignitaries too numerous to mention. The ladies in great numbers also graced the assemblage with their presence. A large open lot, consisting of 22 acres of level greensward, belonging to the U. S. armory, was selected as the place of exhibition. This was surrounded by an enclosure, and at one end a platform was erected with seats to accommodate 4000 persons. The sum received for admittance was $8,280, which, added to the amount received for the entrance fees of horses, made a sum of nearly $10,000 ; an amount far exceeding the expectations of the most sanguine projectors of the convention.

At the close of the exhibition, a "Grand Agricultural Banquet" was held upon the grounds, in a tent belonging to John Wright, of Boston. About 1700 persons partook of this feast, and speeches, numerous, wise, and witty, were added to the material enjoyments of the occasion. Complimentary letters were received from W. H. Seward, of New York, Gov. Seymour, of Connecticut, Emory Washburn, of Worcester, Rufus Choate, Edward Everett, Charles Sumner, A. L. Stone, and Thomas Starr King, of Boston, and from other worthies, hailing from a variety of places.

We extract from the Springfield Republican the following brief description of the scene, as viewed from the platform. "The dumb show of the Crystal Palace, brilliant and valuable as it may be, would stand no chance by the side of such a show of high, active and rejoicing life. All enjoyed it to the very quick of appreciation. Standing upon the elevated seats, and taking in the whole scene at one view, the throng upon the grounds, the darting, whirling, rattling carriages, and the fast horses going around the track at their full gait, one might well exclaim, as hundreds did enthusiastically, that it exceeded in life and beauty, all the lively and beautiful scenes within their memory. And when it was remembered, that on the grounds were the equine representatives of twenty of the United States, as well as the Canadies, the exhibition appeared to the mind in its true beauty and magnitude."

FISHERIES.

In one very important branch of Massachusetts business, there has been quite a decrease during the last year, owing, mostly, to causes completely beyond the power of human skill and labor to remove. We allude to the Fishery business. Last year the returns of all kinds of pickled fish inspected in the eighteen towns in the State, which are engaged in the business, showed a total of over 207,000 barrels. This year, it is thought that the whole amount will not be over 120,000 barrels.

It is thought that the amount of Codfish caught this year will come up to the average of former years, which is over 250,000 quintals. More vessels have been engaged in the Codfishery the past year than in former ones, and the quality of fish caught is excellent. It is thought that on the whole, the last year has been a very favorable one for this branch of industry. About 500 vessels are engaged in this business; each vessel averages not far from 500 quintals of fish, some catching as many as 1500, while others get no more than fifty quintals. These vessels belong to towns in Barnstable, Plymouth, Essex, and Suffolk Counties. The whole value of the Codfish caught, is estimated at about three-quarters of a million of dollars.

In regard to the difficulties between our fishermen and the British government, it may be proper to mention, that, owing to a misunderstanding on the part of both governments, respecting the meaning of the terms of the treaty, much of a feeling of ill-will has been engendered between the citizens of Great Britain and America. Happily, however, the British government has receded from the most rigid construction of the expression "within three miles of British land," and the American vessels are now allowed to sail unmolested up to the three miles line, measuring from the curving of the shore, instead of from headland to headland, according to the first decision of the British authorities. But, in an inadvertent moment, our vessels are liable to oversail this imaginary line; and in some cases, owing to the extreme difficulty of obtaining fish outside of this line, they have been caught on the British side, as they themselves acknowledge. What is wanted of the American government, (it is said,) is, to station vessels along this territory, which is principally in or near the Gulf of St. Lawrence, which vessels shall be authorized to defend American seamen in the courts of adjudicature which are held on board of the British steamers; and thus guard them against unjust condemnation. Both parties are now agreed in reference to the line, but it is extremely difficult to decide from exparte testimony, whether our seamen have, in the excitement of the movement, passed over this line or not. It is important that this matter should be attended to, as in one case, the loss incurred amounted to about $6000, which was nearly the total value of the cargo.

VIEWS OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS IN BOSTON.

On the title-page of this volume will be found the views of ten public buildings in the Capital of the State; also, one of the Common, and one of the city itself as seen from the harbor.

We here give a view of the same separately, with a description of each.

BOSTON.

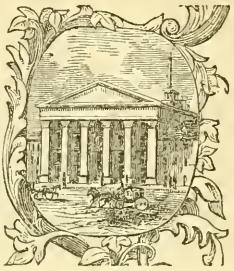
The town was first settled Sept. 7, 1630, by a company of Dissenters from Boston, England, who gave it its present name; the Indian name was Shawmut. When first settled there were three prominent hills, which led to its first English name. This peninsula is nearly 3 miles in length and 1 in breadth. It originally contained about 700 acres — at the present time it contains upwards of 1,200. William Blackstone, its former proprietor, was the first European known to have lodged on this peninsula. Boston was incorporated as a city, Feb. 23, 1822, and has ever been distinguished for its various literary, scientific, religious, and benevolent institutions.

BOSTON COMMON.

Few places equal this lovely spot. It acquired the name of "Common" as early as 1646, which it has since retained. As a promenade, it contributes essentially to the health of the city, and is made a more frequent place of resort as every year adds new beauty to it. On Oct. 25, 1848, the waters of Lake Cochituate (17 miles distant,) found their way to the Frog Pond, a small sheet of water near the centre of the Common. The fountain has no equal in the Union. The water is thrown to the height of ninety-two feet. Nearly a thousand trees shade the walks of this lovely place. The venerable Elm, the most significant and attractive of all, now over a hundred years old, spreads its branches 97 feet, and measures 20 feet in circumference, two feet from the ground. The Common contains 48 acres; the iron fence around it cost over $100,000, and is 5,932 feet, about one mile, in length. Previous to 1836, the Common was enclosed by a plain, unpretending three-rail fence. The malls are wide and smooth, and are no doubt the most delightful promenade grounds in the world.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE,

STATE STREET.

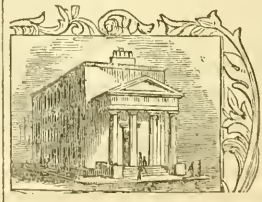


The corner stone was laid Aug. 2, 1841; building completed, 1842; cost, exclusive of land, $175,000. Width on State st., 76 feet; height, 70 feet; depth to Lindall street, 250 feet; covers 13,000 feet of land.

This magnificent structure attracts the attention of the stranger, and is an object of pride to the citizen. Quincy granite alone forms the front, having six columns, each forty-five feet high, and weighing together 330 tons. The building is fire-proof. The staircases are made of iron and stone; the roof of wrought iron, and covered with sheet iron. More than a million and a half of bricks were used in its erection. It has three entrances; one on State, one on Congress, and another on Lindall street. The MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE READING ROOM is really magnificent; its dimensions are eighty by fifty-eight feet, with eighteen columns, twenty feet in length. They are an excellent imitation of Sienna marble, crowned with Corinthian capitals. The brilliant dome is highly ornamental, and the beautiful enamelled sky-light of colored glass must be seen, to be fully appreciated.

The Post Office, two Banks, a Hotel, and several Insurance Companies, and other offices are located here.

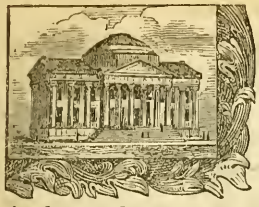
COURT HOUSE.



The view of this building as here represented is taken from Court st. It is situated near the City Hall in Court Square. The location is very central, and most of the law offices in the city are to be found near it.

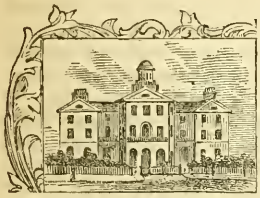
The sessions of the United States Courts are held in this building. The Supreme Judicial, Common Pleas, Municipal, and Police Courts also hold their sessions here. They are always open to the public.

CUSTOM HOUSE.



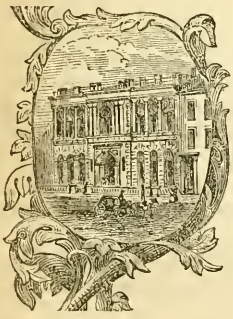
The United States Custom House was completed in 1849. The cost was more than one million of dollars. It stands at the head of the dock between Long and Central wharves, at the foot of State street. It is 140 feet long, and 95 feet wide at the centre. The building presents a most substantial appearance, and no one can mistake the round dome and massive walls of the Custom House. It is fireproof throughout, and very conveniently arranged for the transaction of the immense business which passes through it.

CITY HALL.



The CITY HALL, where the meetings of the Council are held, is located in Court Square, between School, Tremont, Court and Washington streets. The entrances to it are from Court and School streets. A number of the city offices are in this building. The Board of Aldermen meet on Monday afternoon, and the Common Council on Thursday evening.

BOSTON ATHENÆUM.



This Company was instituted 1804, and incorporated in 1807. The number of vols. now owned by it is over 50,000. The new building on Beacon street, a view of which is here given, is a magnificent structure, and was commenced in 1846. Its height is 62 feet, and the length 114 feet. The design of the edifice is after the Palladian style. It is constructed of New Jersey freestone, and cost nearly $150,000. The main library is 109 feet in length, and 42 in breadth, containing 40,000 volumes. The third floor is designed as a picture gallery. Subscribers and life members are allowed two tickets each, for the use of their friends, and strangers are permitted to enter the building free of expense, subject to the rules of the Society. Every one should see this splendid edifice for himself, and an enlarged idea will be conceived of that spirit which adds grandeur to our institutions, and character to our people.

THE STATE HOUSE

Stands on the corner of Beacon and Mount Vernon streets, fronting the Common. It is open for visitors at all times, Sabbaths and public holidays excepted. The best time to visit it, is on some clear day, at about 9 or 10 o'clock in the forenoon. A fine statue of Washington will be seen in the rotunda. It cost more than $15,000, and was placed here by those who were his associates in early life. A description of many of the objects of interest which may be seen from each window of the cupola, will be found in the register in which the visitor's name is required to be recorded. A winding staircase leads to the top of the edifice, and the ascent from the street is about 168 steps.

FANEUIL HALL MARKET,

NORTH MARKET and SOUTH MARKET STS.,

Was erected by the city in 1825, through the enterprise and influence of the Hon. JOSIAH QUINCY, while Mayor of the city. The Hall over the Market is called Quincy Hall in honor to him. The building is composed of Quincy granite, and is 535 feet long by 50 wide. It cost upwards of one million of dollars. Nearly the whole area on which it stands, was formerly covered by the tide. The main entrances to the Market are on the east and west ends, with numerous lesser doors, at suitable distances, on the sides. There is a passage twelve feet wide through the whole length of the building, with 128 stalls arranged on its sides. A dome, forty-six feet high, rises from the centre of the building.

THE NEW JAIL

Was built in 1849, and is located in the western part of the city, just north of the bridge at the foot of Cambridge street. It is formed by a centre building 70 ft. square, and 85 high, from which extend four wings. The building is conveniently arranged for the accommodation of the officers and attendants, and for the security of the prisoners. The exterior of the structure is composed entirely of Quincy granite.

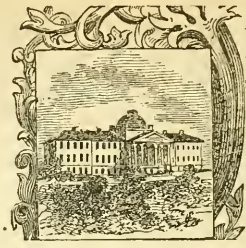
FANEUIL HALL.

MERCHANTS' ROW and MARKET SQUARE.

Faneuil Hall was erected in 1740, and presented to the city by Peter Faneuil, Esq. It was built of brick, and measured one hundred feet by forty. The lower story was for a time used as a market house, and the upper as a Town Hall. In 1761, it was nearly consumed by a conflagration that destroyed many of the adjacent buildings. By means of a lottery, a sum of money was soon raised sufficient for rebuilding it, which was immediately done. In the years following the citizens held frequent meetings there to discuss the rights of Americans, and the oppression and injustice of their British brethren, and from that time to the present, it has been everywhere known as the cradle of American Liberty. In 1805, the building was enlarged to its present size, and covers nearly twice the area that it formerly did. Its walls are adorned with the portraits of many distinguished men, whose lives were devoted to their country. The large Hall is 76 feet square, and 28 feet high, with galleries on three sides, resting upon Doric columns.

The Hall is free to visitors at any time. The key may be obtained in the store below.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL.



This substantial building is located on the corner of Blossom and Allen sts., the main entrance being directly opposite the foot of McLean street, in the west part of the city. The situation is admirably adapted for an institution of this kind, it being in a retired and healthy place. The rooms are large and commodious, and the building is surrounded by a spacious yard, handsomely ornamented with trees and flowers. One hundred and fifty patients can be taken care of here. The design is to afford relief to every class of persons, at as low a rate as possible. Besides, there are about eighty free beds for the use of those whose circumstances render it impossible for them to defray the necessary expenses. The institution was incorporated in 1811. A share of the profits of several Insurance Companies is required by Act of Legislature to be paid to it. This, with various donations, has given the Institution a fund of about $175,000, the interest of which enables it to accomplish much good for the suffering poor.

THE HOOSAC TUNNEL.

This enterprise, which now engrosses so much of the attention of Massachusetts, is designed to unite the valleys of the Deerfield and Hoosac rivers, by perforating the base of the Hoosac mountain. This mountain is a prolongation of the Green Mountains of Vermont. The range enters the western part of this State, and is narrowed to a width of four or five miles at the point where the Deerfield and Hoosac rivers approach each other.

This point was selected twenty-eight years since, by Loammi Baldwin, for a tunnel, to carry a contemplated canal to the Hudson, and being on the air line from Boston to Troy, has been more recently chosen as the true route for a railroad.

The proposed tunnel commences on the river bank at the great bend of the Deerfield in Florida, and runs westerly in a direct line through the mountain to the bank of the Hoosac in North Adams, a distance of four and a half miles.

Its diameter will vary from twenty to twenty-four feet. Its gradients will be ascending from each end towards the centre at the rate of twenty feet per mile, which will secure good drainage, and enable the miners to send out cars laden with rock by the force of gravity.

The surface of the mountain above the tunnel undulates from east to west. After rising rapidly from the eastern end of the tunnel, it sinks again into a cultivated valley, and rising a second time, falls away more gradually to the valley drained by the Hoosac. Much of the surface is well cultivated, and the Post Office of Florida is situate half way across the mountain, about eight hundred feet above the tunnel. The surface will permit three shafts, one of 300 and two of 800 feet depth, to be sunk at convenient points to the base line of the tunnel.

The material of the mountain consists principally of vertical layers of soft mica slate, which the tunnel crosses nearly at right angles. These layers present themselves to the eye of the traveller in regular strata, as they rise above the surface. At the western end the slate changes to limestone, containing a bed of iron ore now worked with profit.

President Hitchcock and other accomplished geologists and engineers are confident the strata are uniform in character; may be easily wrought; and will require no arching or other masonry to line or support the gallery.

The base line of the tunnel is more than six hundred feet below the summit rail of the Western railroad, and the tunnel line prolonged crosses the Connecticut river above Hadley and Montague Falls, at a point 135 feet above the Railroad Bridge at Springfield. There is no gradient above forty feet to the mile between Troy and Greenfield. Much curvature is also avoided; for the valleys of the Deerfield and Hoosac are more direct than the gorges traversed by the Western Railroad.

To complete the tunnel route from Boston to Troy, forty-one miles of railroad only remain to be constructed, and upon their completion, the following advantages to the State are expected to follow: —

First. A reduction of distance between Boston and Troy of twenty-two miles; Fitchburg and Troy, of fifty-four miles; Lowell and Troy, of forty-one miles; Salem and Troy, of thirty-two miles; Greenfield and Troy, of sixty-five miles.

Second. The substitution of the Troy Bridge for the expensive ferry across the Hudson.

Third. A reduction of summit and of heavy gradients, and the escape from more than three entire circles of curvature, whereby the cost of motive power will be diminished one-half.

Fourth. A reduction of the cost of transportation and of time, varying from 40 to 60 per cent., in consequence of these advantages.

The grounds taken by the friends of the Western Railroad, against State aid to this enterprise, have been,

First. That it would require an unreasonable time for construction.

Second. That it would call for a disproportionate expenditure of money.

Third. That it would be nearly impassable for the want of ventilation.

Fourth. That it would injure the Western Railroad.

But on these points a large State Committee reported last spring, almost unanimously, that the evidence was conclusive, it could be made in four or five years, at a cost below two millions; that similar tunnels existed in Europe, and required no artificial ventilation, as the smoke and steam rapidly condense against the roof and sides of the excavation; and they were also well satisfied that the new line — lying at an average distance of twenty-five miles from the Western Railroad, which drew seven-eighths of its support from the local business, and failed to accommodate the through trade — would do it no serious injury.

Although the Hoosac Tunnel is longer then any yet made for a railroad, great progress has been made in railroad tunnelling, and many great works have been constructed, or are now in progress.

The Woodhead Tunnel in England, on the railroad between Manchester and Sheffield, is three miles long, and was finished in four years, at a cost of two hundred thousand pounds sterling.

The Nerthe Tunnel near Marseilles, three miles in length, cost but $1,114.763.01, and required less than five years. Some of the shafts for these tunnels ranged from 500 to 610 feet in depth.

On the Duke of Bridgewater's canal are thirty miles of tunnel.

A tunnel in Saxony measures twenty-four miles, and another in Hungary, ten miles in length. Another, two miles in length, is considerably advanced at Cincinnati, Ohio, to be finished in twenty-two months from its inception, at an estimated cost of $552,000.

It yet remains to be seen what Massachusetts can accomplish in tunnelling, to reach, by a short level and unbroken line, the outlet of a commerce which increases annually at least 600,000 tons, and for which the present avenues are insufficient.

SHIP-BUILDING.

This business has for the last year been exceedingly prosperous, not only in the Bay State, but in Maine, and, in fact, "all 'long shore."

In Boston and neighborhood, a great deal of ship-building has been carried on. Fifty vessels built in and near the city, carrying nearly 50,000 tons' burden, have been entered at the port of Boston. East Boston has become quite distinguished for producing the best and largest ships in the country, if not in the world.

The Great Republic was launched at this place, Oct. 4, 1853. This clipper was the largest ship in the world, and the pride of the American Mercantile Marine. We copy the following account of her dimensions from the Boston Evening Transcript:—

"Her custom house measurement is 4,555 tons, her stowage capacity 6000 tons. It will require a crew of one hundred first class seamen, and fifty boys to sail her, which, with her chief and under officers, will number 175 or 180 all told. She will carry 48,000 barrels of flour in her hold, and between decks, and have room left. She is 325 feet in length, 53 feet breadth of beam, and 39 feet depth of hold, with four complete decks. Her four lower masts are each 130, 131, 122, and 100 feet long, and her lower yards each 110, 115, and 90 feet square. The mainmast is 4 feet in diameter, and the mainyard is 28 inches in diameter. She spreads 16,000 yards of canvas. For figure-head she has an eagle's head; on her stern there is a large eagle with the American shield in its talons. She has a fine library for her crew, and good accommodations for passengers. Her cabins are beautifully furnished and fitted.

"The Great Republic contains 2,380 tons of white oak; 1,500,000 feet of hard pine; 300 tons of iron; and 56 tons of copper. She has 1,600 knees, and is coppered up to 25 feet draught. The time occupied in building this vessel was equal to 50,000 days' work for one man.

"On her spar deck she has five houses for various purposes, and a steam engine on deck, to assist in taking in and discharging cargo, hoisting the sails, working the pumps, tripping anchor, &c. She has eight boats, six of which hang from her davits, two on deck, in one of which there is a screw propeller. She is a perfect model of beauty from stem to stern, and not a false line can be detected in her form, and is supposed to be the strongest ship ever built of wood and metal. She is owned solely by her builder, Donald McKay, Esq., and cost upwards of $300,000. Our citizens feel a pride in the success of this ship and all concerned in this stupendous enterprise. It was a bold step for the owner to embark so much money in a single bottom, but he is confident of success."

Burning of the Great Republic.

After the preparation of the above account, news was received of the destruction of the monster ship by fire. From the New York papers of Dec. 27, we take the following particulars:—

"The fire began at about 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning, in Treadwell & Sons' Bakery, in the rear of 244 Front street. There was a strong breeze blowing from the westward at the time, and the fire spread rapidly to the front buildings and the adjoining warehouses, a number of which were either entirely destroyed or seriously injured. From these, the flying cinders reached first the lofty rigging and sails of the 'Great Republic,' which were soon in flames, and falling upon the deck, communicated the fire to the hull and to the cargo of the ship.

Attempts to tow her into the stream and to scuttle her proved alike abortive, owing to the lowness of the water and the immense draught of the ship with her enormous cargo nearly all in. According to the New York Commercial Advertiser, the cargo of the Great Republic was worth about $225,000. It consisted of the following named items:—Beef, 896 tierces; Lard, 97 tierces, 53 barrels; Wheat, 23,406 bushels; Corn, 33,500 bush.; Flour, 6,630 barrels; Cotton, 2,023 bales; Tea, 639 half-chests; Rosin, 4,046 barrels; Tobacco, 14 hogsheads; Argols, 10 casks; Maple Timber, 367 pieces."

"The Great Republic was insured (on ship and cargo) to the amount of about $212,000 in New York, and out of town, $40,000, or $50,000 more. Of the latter, there was $15,000 or $20,000 in Boston. The G. R. had all her stores on board, advance wages paid, and was in all respects ready for a sea voyage."

DUTIES OF CIVIL OFFICERS.

Having given, on previous pages, the names of most of the civil officers in the Commonwealth, it seems not inappropriate to also give a chapter, treating upon the manner of their election or appointment, their powers and duties, their compensation, &c. &c.

A brief statement concerning sheriffs, and their deputies, commissioners to qualify civil officers, justices of the peace, of the peace and quorum, and of the peace and quorum throughout the Commonwealth, constables, notaries public and coroners, has accordingly been prepared, and may be continued and extended to other officers in future volumes.

SHERIFFS.

It is the duty of Sheriffs to serve writs; to summon juries for assessing damages in turnpike and railroad cases; to transmit to the Selectmen of the several towns, the precepts for the election of Congressional Representatives, received from the Governor; and to preside at the trials for highway damages, when no other person is appointed by the Commissioners. He is required to collect taxes, when the town has neglected to choose a collector; to suppress riots, and arrest rioters; to adjourn courts, in the absence of all the judges; to aid in removing convicts from the jail to the State Prison; to act as supervisor of all jails and prisoners in the county; to inform of all offences against the law, prohibiting labor, travelling, visiting taverns, and places of amusement, on the Lord's day; and to perform other minor duties.

Sheriffs are appointed by the Governor and Council, for a term of five years. They are required to be sworn, and to give such bonds to the Treasurer of the State, for the performance of their duties, as the Court of Common Pleas shall direct;—in neglect of which requirement, they become liable to a fine of 150 dollars, for each month's delay.

A Sheriff is exempt from arrest of body, in civil cases; but he is liable to removal from office, if he fails for thirty days to satisfy a civil execution, issued against his property.

The Sheriff of each County receives from his deputies twenty-five per cent. of all the fees collected by them; a portion of which he retains for his own services, according to the amount of duty incumbent on him to perform; and the remainder he pays to the County Treasurer.

COMMISSIONERS TO QUALIFY CIVIL OFFICERS.

These officers are appointed by the Governor and Council, and it is their duty to administer the oath of office to all public officers, except those for whom a different provision is made by the Constitution. It is optional with persons wishing to be qualified, to take the oath before the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, any two members of the Council, or before two of the Commissioners.

According to the commission held by an officer of this description, he is required to make returns of his doings to the Secretary's office "as soon as may be in all instances" after he has "executed his trust." It would prevent much confusion, if this requirement were rigidly adhered to by the Commissioners; which we are sorry to say, is not always the case at present.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.

These officers are appointed by the Governor and Council for a term of seven years; after which, their acts cease to be valid, unless their commissions are renewed, and they have again taken the oath required of them upon their first entrance into office. Considerable confusion has been occasioned, and much inconvenience experienced, by the failure of Justices to obtain the renewal of their commissions; or to be legally qualified. In consequence of this neglect, the Legislature has been called upon, in some cases, to pass special resolves, rendering legal the acts of the Justices thus neglectful.

Persons residing away from the villages or towns where they require the services of a Justice, often repair to the State House, and obtain the names of Justices supposed to reside in those town. After waiting for some time, to hear from them respecting the business entrusted to their care, they casually learn, or they are informed by some other resident of the town, to whom they have written, that the Justice to whom they have sent has either removed from the town of his own accord, or has been removed by the busy hand of death; and that consequently their business, which probably required immediate attention, remains untransacted. There is, therefore, imperatively demanded by the wants of the community, the passage of a law, that shall either require of all Justices, a notification of the Secretary of State, of the fact of their requalification for office; or of each Town Clerk, a return to the Secretary of State, of all the deaths and removals of Justices in the town where he officiates. In this way the evil of which we complain will be removed.

The duties of Justices are briefly as follows: to administer oaths where no legal provision is otherwise made; to issue writs in criminal and civil cases coming within their jurisdictions except in places where there is a Police Court; to summon the necessary witnesses, and to try civil cases, where the value at stake is not over one hundred dollars, and no real estate is concerned. In cases of debt and damage, not over $20 in value, and in actions of replevin not over $100 in value, each party may demand a jury of six persons before whom to try the case.

It is also the duty of Justices to examine offenders in criminal cases; and either bind them over to a higher Court,—place them under bonds to keep the peace,—or fine them not exceeding ten dollars.

Justices are allowed to hold courts in their own dwellings; or in other places of their selection. The remuneration for their services is derived from fees, the amount of which, for each act performed, is specified by law.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE AND QUORUM.

These functionaries are authorized to administer the "poor debtor's oath," and to attend to some other trifling matters, in addition to the duties of a common Justice. The distinction between the two appears to be not generally understood by legal gentlemen themselves.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE AND QUORUM THROUGHOUT THE COMMONWEALTH

Differ from Justices of the Peace, and of the Peace and Quorum, only in the extent of their jurisdiction, which in the two last mentioned, is confined to the County for which they are appointed, while the former have, as their name implies, authority to act throughout the State. The Governor and Lieut. Governor and members of the Governor's Council, are ex officiis Justices of the Peace and Quorum throughout the Commonwealth.

CONSTABLES.

These officers are chosen annually by the people, and are required to be sworn into office. It devolves upon them to collect taxes, unless other persons are chosen especially for that purpose; to serve warrants for notifying town meetings; and to prosecute for all violations of laws respecting the observance of the Sabbath, and forbidding profane swearing and gaming. They can serve writs in personal actions, where the damages claimed are not over seventy dollars; and can convey prisoners beyond the limits of the towns where they reside. They can serve writs of replevin where the value of the property is not over seventy dollars.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.

These officers are appointed by the Governor and Council for a term of seven years; and they perform the duties of protesting notes, bills of exchange, drafts, orders, and checks, not paid on presentment to the parties drawn upon, and of attesting deeds, and certifying copies of contracts, agreement, &c. They are also empowered to administer oaths, the same as Justice of the Peace. Their fees are regulated by law; a copy of which they are required to keep hung up in their offices; and for every offence of receiving more than the legal fees, they are liable to a fine of thirty dollars.

Any person mutilating or concealing the records of a Notary Public, is liable to a fine of a thousand dollars. Whenever a Notary resigns, or is removed from office, he is required to deposit his records in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas. A neglect of this requirement is accompanied by a forfeiture, on his part, of not over five hundred dollars. If the executor of a deceased Notary, fails to deposit, as above, in three months, the records of said Notary, he becomes liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

CORONERS.

The duty of Coroners is principally to examine the bodies of persons supposed to have been killed; and to summon a jury of six men to sit upon the cause of said murdered persons' death—this jury to be qualified to examine witnesses, and to report their opinion in writing to the Coroner, who is required to bind over the witnesses to the next Court, and to issue a warrant for the apprehension of the offender.

If the body proves to be that of a non-resident of the State, and the Coroner deems an inquest unnecessary, he is required to see that the body is decently buried, and the State pays the expense thereof.

Coroners are allowed to serve a process of attachment against a sheriff for refusal to serve a writ of habeas corpus; and to perform all the duties of a sheriff when the office of the latter is vacant, or when the sheriff is a party interested.

A Coroner is forbidden to act as Attorney, and to fill writs, &c., under a penalty of fifty dollars.

These officers are appointed by the Governor and Council; and are required to be sworn, and to give bonds with sureties, to the Treasurer of the State; which bonds are to be examined yearly by the Court of Common Pleas, and if not sufficient, to be renewed.

A neglect to give bonds subjects the Coroner to the penalty of a removal from office; and to a fine of one hundred and fifty dollars.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE STATE HOUSE.

Knowing the general interest felt by the public in the progress of this great improvement to the State Capitol of Massachusetts, we have, at considerable pains, obtained through the politeness of the architect, the following statement, together with a printed description of the design now being carried out by the commissioners having charge of the erection of the building.

An act of the legislature of 1852–3 authorized the erection of a fire-proof structure on the north side of the present building. Three commissioners, Hon. Charles H. Warren, Adam W. Thaxter, Jr.,* and Samuel K. Hutchinson, were appointed in accordance with the act, by the Executive, to superintend the erection of the building. These gentlemen immediately commenced upon their duties, by the employment of G. J. F. Bryant, Esq., to submit designs for the contemplated structure. The designs as required by the act, were submitted to the Governor and Council for their approval. This approval took place on the first day of July last. Without delay the commissioners directed the preparation of the specifications for the various works and materials necessary to erect the skeleton of the edifice, and previous to January 1st, 1854, the entire exterior was completed ready to receive the roof, under contracts with Messrs. Nathan Prince and Asa Swallow, for the masonry, Jeremiah Wetherbee & Co., for the granite, Smith & Felton and Denin & Roberts for the iron work, and Theophilus Burr for the carpentry. It is expected the entire works will be completed during the coming summer.

The new structure will consist of a "central building," commencing with the north wall of the "statue building," so called, and continuing to the Mount Vernon street line. The height of the structure will be equal to that of the wings of the State House, and be divided into three lofty stories above the basement, the upper of which is to be used for the library, forming one spacious room, 88 by 37 feet square, and 36½ feet high. Two wings will extend from the new main structure, each of which will be of L form, in ground plan, each wing to be of sufficient length to reach from the ends, or east and west walls of the main, to within two and one-half feet of the outside faces of the east and west walls of the present structure. The width of each wing is to be such as to reach from the outside face of the present north wall of the structure, to within ten feet of the true boundary line of the estate on Mount Vernon street.

The best idea we can give of the exterior design and effect of the change, may be found in the following extracts from the printed description previously alluded to:—

"The design of the exterior of the new structure consists of a rusticated dressed granite basement, throughout the whole extent of its north, east and west walls, with segmental arched window openings. Upon this basement rests an arcade, with inserted piers, in the inter-piers of which are window openings, with semi-circular arched heads, having keystones, archivolts, architraves and pedestals; and in this arcade, on the returns of the 'central building,' are arched entrance doorways, accessible from the street by two ample flights of steps, with balustrade and ornamental pedestals, at the head and foot of each flight. Above the arcade in the 'central building,' and resting thereon, are engaged pilasters, supporting an entablature, in the Corinthian order. The inter pilasters contain windows, with square openings, excepting two, which have semi-circular arched heads. The square ones are decorated with dentil cornices, consoles, moulded pilasters, and flush balconies; the two circular ones, with moulded archivolts and enriched keystones. Above the square windows, and beneath the entablature, are small ornamental windows, of elliptical form. Upon the outer angles of the 'central building,' are light and airy turrets. These turrets surmount towers, inserted in the outer angles of the 'central building.' The walls of the wings are crowned with a Corinthian entablature, and in the third story thereof, above the 'arcade,' are adorned with windows, having elaborate dressings, composed of columns, pilasters, entablatures, enriched keystones, archivolts and balconies. Upon the roof of the building, above the entablature, throughout the building, a balustrade is raised, corresponding with the Corinthian order, before described.

* Hon. John T. Heard was originally appointed, but declined the appointment.

"The external effect produced upon the present building, by the 'enlargement,' will be to change the form of the structure from a parallelogram, now crowned with a dome in the centre, to the form of a 'Greek cross,' wherein the said dome occupies a position on one extreme, and is balanced by two turrets or steeple towers, located at the opposite extreme. The two wings of the 'enlargement' being made subservient to the principal structure by making their height less, and by their receding from the extremes of the wings of said principal structure, will not be an injury to the general effect of the whole."

It was deemed, with excellent judgment, by the architect, that such an addition as was contemplated to an edifice whose centre was a dome, must destroy its pyramidal proportions, unless some feature like the turrets above referred to were introduced, and that some relief would be necessary to preserve the harmony of the entire structure, and basing his opinion upon the distinguished examples afforded him in the churches of St Peter's at Rome, and St. Paul's at London, where, the domes not being in the centre of either, small turrets are employed to secure symmetrical effect.

The interior finish of all the rooms of the "enlargement" will be plain, excepting only the library, which it is intended shall be finished in metal, including the cases and alcoves, and to be fire-proof throughout.

It is intended to remove the present north and south end entrances, and to substitute windows in their places. The necessity for these entrances will no longer exist, as the four entrances on the Mount Vernon side of the "enlargement" will be found much more convenient and accessible to the various parts of the interior of the old and new structures. The two halls or entries now communicating with the end entrances are to be discontinued, and the offices bounding on them thereby enlarged.

We copy from the printed description, before alluded to, a statement, in brief, of the accommodations of the new edifice :—

"Basement Story.—Central building—one room, eighty-eight by thirty-seven feet, and twelve and eleven-twelfths feet high. East wing—one room, thirty-four by twenty-four feet, and twelve and eleven-twelfths feet high. West wing—one room, thirty-three and one-half by thirty-two feet, and twelve and eleven-twelfths feet high.

"Second Story.—Central building—one room, eighty-eight by thirty-seven feet, and ten and one-half feet high. East wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-four by twenty-four feet, and ten and one-half feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and ten and one-half feet high. West wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-three and one-half by thirty-two feet, and ten and one-half feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and ten and one-half feet high.

"Third Story.—Central building—one room, eighty-eight by thirty-seven feet, and thirty-six and one-half feet high, which is intended for a library. East wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-four by twenty-four feet, and eight and one-half feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and eight and one-half feet high. West wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-three and one-half by thirty-two feet, and eight and one-half feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and eight and one-half feet high.

"Fourth Story.—East wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-four by twenty-four feet, and ten and four-twelfths feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and ten and four-twelfths feet high. West wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-three and one-half by thirty-two feet, and ten and four-twelfths feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and ten and four-twelfths feet high.

"Fifth Story.—East wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-four by twenty-four feet, and eleven feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and eleven feet high. West wing—two rooms, one of which is thirty-three and one-half by thirty-two feet, and eleven feet high, and the other twenty-three by seventeen feet, and eleven feet high."

From an examination of the plans of the architect, and the model now at the State House, we should deem the proposed changes to be most creditable to the architectural head that conceived them, and to the city in which the building is located. It will be an edifice to which we can look with pride, and esteem the State fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Bryant for the work, whose skill as an architect is unrivalled.

IMPROVEMENTS IN HEATING APPARATUS.

Any middle-aged man can remember the introduction of Anthracite Coal, and the cost of fuel before it, and he may easily calculate what would have been the cost of wood sufficient to create the same degree of heat all over his house, which he now considers a necessary comfort of life. With Anthracite Coal came various contrivances and experiments for the best mode of using it; and the result is, that from open fire-places, the gas escapes into the room, affects the lips, the skin and the lungs, and is unpleasant and unhealthful. Then to remedy the bad effects of the gas in the rooms, and to economize in fuel, Stoves were invented of various plans and forms for burning it, which at the present day form no small branch of the industry of our State.

Some idea may be formed of the steady increase in the manufacture and sale of Stoves from the fact that from one house alone in Boston, that of Messrs. CHILSON, RICHARDSON & Co., (formerly GARDNER CHILSON,) nearly 10,000 Stoves are sold annually; while in 1837, the number of Stoves sold by Mr. Chilson did not exceed 1000. Notwithstanding the great economy in fuel by the use of stoves over open fire-places, yet it was found necessary for comfort and health to have a stove placed in each room and passage, else in passing from a warm to a cold room health was endangered. But the trouble and expense of a stove and fire for each room are attended with many serious objections, and to remove these objections Furnaces were invented to warm with one fire the whole house. This mode of warming by Furnaces has met with great favor, especially those of the most approved construction.

In 1838 the number of Furnaces sold by Mr. Chilson did not exceed 30, but as with Stoves, so there has also been a steadily increasing demand for Furnaces. The number of Furnaces manufactured and sold by Messrs. Chilson, Richardson & Co., the past year, amounts to over 2000. Although it is but a few years since the introduction of Furnaces, yet an entire change in the principle, construction and character of the heat generated by them, has been successfully accomplished by Mr. Chilson, from that of the common cast iron cylinder pot furnace, to those constructed on the most scientific principle for securing the greatest amount of heat from the fuel consumed; producing a fresh, healthful, warm atmosphere throughout the buildings; and insuring great durability without liability of repairs. Another important object has been secured in the construction of this kind of furnace, and plan of setting it, which is that of preventing the possibility of firing the buildings in which they are placed.

Mr. Chilson has undoubtedly given more attention to the important subject of the invention of warming and ventilating apparatus, than any other individual in the country. His inventions are based on strictly scientific principles, which govern the elements of air and heat.

A great error has pervaded the form of the apparatus for burning Anthracite Coal in stoves and furnaces hitherto used, and the latter in particular, in which the fire pot containing the fuel was a long iron cylinder, and set permanently in its brick walls. The necessary consequences were, that the coal was confined in a deep, compact bed, presenting the least possible surface for radiation, and in the worst possible position for combustion; so that a given quantity of fuel gave out the least possible heat, and made the most possible waste in clinkers, &c. Then the red-hot coals came in contact with the iron pot, and made that red-hot also; and as the coals were the hottest in the centre, so was the iron pot, and being unequally heated, it necessarily was unequally expanded, and more at the centre than above or below it. This unequal expansion of parts necessarily cracked the pot, and through the cracks the poisonous gas escaped into the air-chamber, and thence passed into the house, thus destroying health and comfort.

And all this was the consequence of the action of the unscientific fire-pot. Its own action necessarily destroyed itself, and at the same time cracked and warped the plates and joints of the furnace about the fire-pot; and the only remedy was to remove the brick work, take out the cracked pots and plates, and put in new ones, and rebuild the brick work. The consequence was a public belief that Furnaces poisoned the air of a house, and consumed themselves, and thus cost health and money. The general reputation of furnaces for a long time was based upon such conclusions.

But a new era came with CHILSON'S FURNACE. Mr. Chilson made a new fire-pot on an entirely new principle, conforming to, instead of opposing, the natural laws. The old fire-pot was deep, he made his shallow; the old was narrowest at the top, the new is the broadest; the old fire-pot was a cylinder much taller than it was broad, the new one has an open flaring basin, much broader than it is tall; the old fire-pot held its heated coals against the sides of the iron pot, the new is lined with soapstone, which prevents the hot coals from touching the iron of the fire-pot. The natural result of Mr. Chilson's invention is, that his fire-pot presents the broadest possible radiating surface, and holds the coals in a shallow bed, through every part of which the air passes freely, and furnishes the most perfect combustion. The logical deduction derived from this is, that from a given quantity of coal the most possible heat combined with the least possible waste is obtained.

Then, as the fire-pot never expands unequally or materially, it never cracks, and there being no escape of gas into the air-chamber or the house, the fire-pot will last a life-time. The arrangement of this Furnace in its parts above the fire-pot, is also such as to prevent the intense action of the heat from warping or cracking any part of it, and there is therefore no burnt iron heat coming from the furnace or fire-pot, and no escape of coal gas into the air-chamber. All the evils of old furnaces are thus removed.

This Furnace has received the first premium of all the principal Fairs in America, among which one Gold Medal, Seven first premium Silver Medals, besides numerous Diplomas, are on record.

At the World's Fair it gained the PRIZE MEDAL, and plans of its construction were engraved and printed in the Illustrated Catalogue of the Fair, and its Secretary testifies, under his own signature, that "this compliment was paid to no other article in the American exhibition unsolicited." So favorable has been the impression produced by this Furnace, that its proprietors contemplate sending a special agent across the Atlantic to superintend the important and growing branch of their business in that country. Its use in England was begun by the EARL OF CARNAVAN, in his lordly castle, and it will carry increased comfort into the homes of the English people.

This firm having been very successful in warming and ventilating buildings, have been induced to open a branch house at No. 374 Broadway, New York, where they are meeting with equal success in the introduction of their Furnace and ventilating apparatus. They have also established agencies for the manufacture, as well as sale of Chilson's Furnace and ventilating apparatus, in all the largest western cities, the Canadas, British Provinces, &c.; a good evidence that these improvements are extending all over the country.

MASSACHUSETTS REGISTRATION REPORT, 1852.

The preparation of this important Report was entrusted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to NATHANIEL B. SHURTLEFF, M. D., of Boston,—a gentleman distinguished for his active interest in statistical matters, and indefatigable labors in collecting and preserving valuable information respecting the early history of this State, and individuals connected with it. The Report contains much that is interesting and useful, and is more extensive than any former report upon this subject. In regard to the report, the Secretary says— "On an examination of its pages, it will be noticed that nearly every town in the Commonwealth has complied with the requisitions of the law of Registration. In some cases, there has evidently been a strong desire to communicate information and make such explanations as the nature of the returns seemed to require. In others, there has appeared only a willingness to fulfil exactly the letter of the law. It is hoped that in future there may be an honest emulation throughout the State to do all that may be needful to keep up the good character of the Massachusetts Registration Reports, and to increase as much as possible their degree of perfection, and to extend their sphere of usefulness.

The good results which obtain from correct and widely extended statistics are too well known by statesmen and political economists of the present day to require any notice in this place; and the deep interest which is felt in this community in regard to registration, evinces a just appreciation of the wisdom of the legislators who founded the excellent system at present used in this Commonweath.

When years shall have rolled on, and the returns shall have formed a great collection of facts concerning the domestic relations of man, both in health and disease, then will it be rare to find a person sufficiently misanthropic as not to be grateful for the labors and experience of those who have devoted themselves to the intricate studies connected with vital and mortuary statistics.

The accumulated results of more than eleven years have now been given to the public, and the Tables have become sufficient to form the bases of deductions which can be relied upon with more certainty for estimating the expectation of life among our citizens, than those of foreign construction which have hitherto been used in making calculations for the purpose of life and health insurance.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORT.

In many of the States of the Union, registration laws, very similar to those of this State, have been passed; and it is a matter of much just pride to this Commonwealth that the system adopted and practised here has so generally met with approval elsewhere, and that most of the reports which have been made to the legislatures of other States bear a considerable analogy to those which have emanated here.

It is of great importance that this similarity should be preserved in future reports, and that it should not be disregarded wherever attempts of the same nature are to be made hereafter; for a concentration of results on particular points, produced from a multiplicity of facts, will give a much greater degree of certainty to statistical calculations and deductions; which, although they never can be regarded as positively certain, may often approach the truth to a remarkable degree. It is therefore with this idea prominently in view, that the present Report is made to conform so nearly with those which have preceded it.

It is evident from the returns of the town clerks, received at the office of the Secretary, that an increasing interest is felt throughout this Commonwealth on the subject of vital and mortuary statistics. With some clerks it is customary so annex concise remarks, in the form of explanatory notes, to such items as appear to require them. These remarks are of more value than is generally supposed; and could it become the general practice of the officers who are required to transmit returns, to accompany them with comments upon the most important facts concerning health, disease and death, as manifested in their several towns, much valuable and desirable knowledge would be elicited. Among the numerous matters which should be noticed, are the peculiar and accidental causes of disease and death, the unusual occurrence of any disease, whether epidemic or not, and more especially of such as are endemic. When the reasons for the appearance of any of these can be satisfactorly obtained, they should be mentioned at large.

While it is worthy of notice that attention to the requirements of the law of registration is yearly increasing, it is a matter of much regret that some towns are very negligent and imperfect in performing their duties. As an honorable and praiseworthy exception, must be mentioned the voluminous and carefully prepared returns from the office of the Registrar of the city of Boston. For many years previous to his election to office, no births were collected to be recorded, nor was the law enforced on this point. An examination of the early Reports on registration shows a total neglect on the part of Boston to aid the interesting objects aimed at by these laboriously prepared documents. Since the present Registrar has so ably filled his office, that part of the duty has been performed with great care and perfection. The excellent reports annually submitted to the city council of Boston by that officer, yield much information, and form the basis of the remarks in this Report, relating to the statistics of the capital of the Commonwealth.

BIRTHS.

By inspecting the Report, it will be seen that the whole number of births during the year 1852, was 29,802, an increase of 1,121 over the number of the preceding year. Of these, 17,255, or 59.90 per cent., were of American parentage; 10,991, or 36.88 per cent., were of foreign parentage, and 1,556, or 5 22 per cent., were of unknown parentage. The number of males amounted to 15,246, or 51.16 per cent.; of females, 14,432, or 48.43 per cent.; and the sex of 124, or .41 per cent., could not be ascertained. It is worthy of notice that the number of births classed as of unknown parentage yearly decreases; and it is hoped that in future Reports the number may be so inconsiderable as not to affect the deductions of statisticians in such a degree as to be required in their calculations.

It will be plainly perceived that the births of children of foreign parents form an item of increasing importance in the registration tables of Massachusetts. During the three years preceding the twelve months embraced in this Report the actual number of births of this description amounted to 24,523, making 29.87 per cent. of all the births in this Commonwealth, and bearing the ratio of 1 to 2 to those from American parents.

The number of plurality cases shows the birth of 590 children; of these 285 were males, and 305 females. Among these were four cases of triplets; one in Hampden county, where the offspring were all females; two in Middlesex county, in one case all males, in the other all females; one in Worcester county, two males and one female. There were 289 cases of twins during the year; by far the largest number were born in Boston.

From 1844 to 1852, inclusive, there were born, in plurality cases, 1,829 children. Of these, 961 were boys, and 864 girls, and 4 of whom the sex was not stated.

The whole number of children of both sexes stillborn in 1852, as returned to the Secretary, is 598. Of these, 264 were males. 210 females, and 124 of unknown sex. Nearly one half of these births occurred in Boston alone. For the four years last past, there were of this description of births, 2,050.

It is a matter of much regret that greater attention is not given in making the primary records of deaths in regard to the sex of stillborn children. These have as great a bearing upon the question of proportion of sex as do the births of children that live.

MARRIAGES.

The whole number of marriages which have been solemnized within this Commonwealth, as far as can be known from the registration returns, amounted, in 1852, to 11.578. Of these, 7,702 are set down in the general abstract as between parties of American birth; 3,767 as between foreigners, and of 109 the places of nativity were not ascertained. Compared with the preceding year, there is a falling off of 388.

The number of marriages of foreigners has somewhat increased, whereas there have been fewer matrimonial connections among the American portion of the community. This fact is particularly evident in the returns from the city of Boston.

In regard to the usual age for contracting marriage in Massachusetts, the most common age for a first marriage of both parties is from 20 to 25 for both sexes. The next period is for males of 20 to 25 to females under 20. The third period is for males of 25 to 30 to females of from 20 to 25. Of marriages where both contracting parties were under the age of twenty years, 156 are enumerated. The oldest persons who have entered upon hymenial responsibilities for the first time, during the past year, were two males between the ages of 70 and 75 years, to females upwards of 80 years of age. There were 9,511 marriages of parties for the first time.

DEATHS.

Compared with former years, the last does not appear to have been one of great mortality. The number of deaths returned to the Secretary's office for the year 1852 falls short of that returned during the previous year, by 452. In 1849, there were 1,941 more deaths within the Commonwealth, according to the registration of that year, than are exhibited in the general abstract of this year. This may be in part accounted for by the great prevalence of zymotic diseases, especially of cholera, dysentery and scarlatina.

The whole number of deaths during the year amounted to 18,482; of these, 8,978 were of males, and 9,396 of females; and in 108 instances the sex was not ascertained.

The period of life in which the mortality was the greatest, has been during the first year of existence, in which 3,750 infants have deceased. The number of deaths which have occurred under the age of five years was 6,914, being more than one-third of the whole number of deaths of the year. Five centenarians have departed during the past year. Four of these were females; one of whom was a resident in Great Barrington, in Berkshire county; another, aged 100 years, 9 months and 27 days, died in Nantucket; the third died in Lexington, in the county of Middlesex, at the advanced age of 104 years and 15 days; and the fourth died in Canton, Norfolk County, aged about 100 years. The male died in Ashburnham, Worcester County, at the age of 99 years, 11 months and 20 days, if the figures have been read correctly. One great cause of deaths in this Commonwealth arises from the great number of births of foreigners, as a large proportion of the children of this class of our inhabitants die young.

Old age is assigned as the cause of 960 deaths. The months of greatest mortality by this cause, may be arranged in the following order: January, March, February, April and December. July and August produced the least number of deaths. Compared with the population, the greatest proportion died in the counties of Hampshire, Plymouth and Franklin.

Every successive year shows an increasing attention to the requisitions of the registration law, and an evident desire to fulfil the intentions of this interesting provision of the legislature. In a few particulars there are deficienices as yet, which can be prevented hereafter with very little trouble. Many of these will undoubtedly suggest themselves to such persons as have been parties to the delinquencies.

Especially to be attended to are the particulars of sex, parentage, nativity, and cause of death; so that the opprobrium of having special columns of the abstracts devoted to unknown, not stated and unascertained, may be entirely and forever done away with in the future Reports of Massachusetts Registration.

OFFICIAL VOTES CAST AT THE GUBERNATORIAL ELECTIONS IN 1852 AND 1853,

TOGETHER WITH THE VOTE ON THE PROPOSED CONSTITUTION, THE POPULATION IN 1850, THE NUMBER OF RATABLE POLLS, VOTERS IN EACH TOWN, AND TOWN CLERKS.

The number of ratable polls is according to the valuation of 1851, and the number of votes is from a return made in that year by order of the Legislature.

The towns against which no votes are given in 1852 are those the returns of which were rejected, and thus not counted in the official vote.

A dagger [†] against a town denotes that the returns of 1853 for Governor were rejected.

The vote on the proposed Constitution is that on the first proposition only, but we give, at the end of this article, a summary of the votes on each of the propositions.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON "AIR LINE" RAILROAD.

There exists at the present time no direct Railroad between the cities of New York and Boston, the communication being effected by roads projected and constructed for other interests; the Boston and Worcester and Western roads, as far as Springfield, being projected as an Eastern and Western line, and the Hartford and New Haven road as a Northern and Southern, or valley line, for Connecticut River. The New York and New Haven road is the only part of the present line which is direct, as near as may be, on the true line between the cities. A direct line was projected in 1846–7 between New Haven and Boston, and charters have been obtained in Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts. The length of this line is 135 miles; which, with 76 miles from New Haven to New York, makes a total length of 211 miles for the shortest line of Railroad between the two cities. The present Railroad line is 236 miles, showing a clear saving of 25 miles in favor of the direct line. It is proposed, and is the intention of the friends of the line, to build a first-class Railroad, with a double track, and, where curves are necessary, to have them of large radius. This line, commencing at New Haven, passes by a very direct course to the city of Middletown, and very near the centre of the State of Connecticut; thence to Willimantic, a large and flourishing manufacturing village, already the point of junction of two other Railroads; thence it continues till it crosses the Norwich and Worcester Railroad near Daysville, in the vicinity of the most flourishing manufactures of the valley of the Quinebaug River; thence as near direct as possible to Woonsocket, in Rhode Island, the largest manufacturing place upon the Blackstone River; thence to Boston, over the Charles River road to a point where it meets the Boston and Worcester Railroad, near the connection to be made with the Grand Junction line, by which last line access can be had to all other lines centering in Boston and to tide water. This line, passing as it does near the greatest falls of most of the rivers which it crosses, is found by the census of 1850 to have a larger amount of population, business capital, and real and personal estate, per mile, upon it, than the line via Springfield. This fact, of itself, warrants the conclusion that the New York and Boston Air Line Railroad must be one of the most valuable in New England.

SEASON TICKETS.—Three months, $20; six months, $40; one year, $75.

The cars commenced running on the New Route in 1851. Since the opening of the route, it has met with general favor from the travelling public, and is constantly increasing in patronage. It passes through a class of towns of considerable importance in point of population and wealth. Many of the residents of these towns do business in Boston, where the central location of the depot makes this a favorite route. The road has also a liberal share of general patronage. The low rates of the Season Tickets make this a desirable route between Boston and Lowell.

ADVERTISING.

As so much has been said, and well said, upon the merits of advertising, by those whose time is devoted to the subject, we can do no better than present our readers with a few extracts from the writings of our contemporaries. From "V. B. Palmer's Register" we quote the following sensible thoughts, premising that under the magic touch of the inventive genius of this gentleman, and with the aid of the indefatigable perseverance of his competitor, Mr. Pettingell, the business of advertising has assumed an importance not attributed to it previously. To Mr. Palmer belongs the honor of having originated and carried into successful operation a comprehensive system of advertising, which is a saving of labor and expense alike to the advertiser and the printer. Few persons not conversant with advertising affairs are aware of the large sums expended by our principal firms in publishing their business. One firm, we learn, has contracted this year for advertising to the amount of $6,000. Some firms advertise at one time to the amount of a thousand dollars and upwards. But to our extracts. Says Mr. Palmer—

"The subject of advertising has for a long time been regarded as of importance by many; but, within a few years, its vast importance to the life of business has been more fully understood and appreciated. This is owing mainly to the signal benefit experienced by those who have availed themselves of this mighty engine, and partly by the newspapers and those who have established Advertising Agencies.

"The policy of every man in business, and who must live by the public, is to let the public hear of him. His best speaking trumpet is the newspaper advertising. In a populous community, and a rapid age like this, every trader must make himself heard and known, otherwise he will fall behind the progress of his neighbors. He may be up early in the morning, and late at night, and tax highly his physical energies, and eat the bread of carefulness, with honest intention and steady brain, yet he is ever open to the chances of failure, for want of that intellectual sagacity, those wide views of things, without which no man can have a safe basis for his business. Of two ships crossing the Atlantic, one will struggle with baffling breezes, and get along slowly; whereas the other, with a helmsman at the wheel, who knows the whole chart of his calling, is knowingly steered into the track of the trade winds; and while the former is working heavily in the gulf stream, or perhaps going down in it, has its sails happily furled in port.

"In thus helping his exertions by a prudent skill, a man will ensure success; just as a temperate man who lives regularly, and takes proper precautions, will escape a bed of sickness. This is true of human nature and society in the broad average.

"Most of the losses that affect a man's business, are palpably owing to his own ignorance or neglect. To talk of chance or fate is a superstitious absurdity. * * * * This is the rationale, the common sense of the advertising business.

"Common sense is the basis of it in fact. A child may understand it. But he who adopts it and follows it out, will show himself a wise and prosperous man."

We extract the following from a prize essay on advertising. "It is idle to speak of the cost (of advertising) as an impediment; one might as well object to the cost of sheltering his goods from bad weather, protecting them from thieves, or of dealing them out to customers. All the other cost of his business is incurred without adequate motive or return, so long as this essential element of his business is neglected or scrimped. If his location and his stock only entitle him to expect the custom of his own township or neighborhood, then he should incur the expense of fully informing that locality. Just so with the wholesale merchant, who aspires to a custom co-extensive with his state, his section, or the whole Union. If he is prepared to satisfy so wide a demand on favorable terms, the expense of apprising those whom he desires for customers, of the nature of his business, the character of his stock, the range of his prices, and the reasons why he should be dealt with, is one which he cannot refuse to incur, without gross incompetency and ruinous prodigality." To neglect (this facility for advertising) is like resolving never to travel by steam, nor communicate by telegraph. It is to close one's eyes to the light, and insist on living in perpetual darkness. An individual may do this at his own cost; but a community, a class, will never act so insanely; and he who neglects the advantage of advertising, not only robs himself of his fair advantages, but bestows the spoils on his wiser rivals.

THE BEST QUALITY KIP AND CALF LACINGS.

The attention of the public is respectfully called to the above article of Stretched Leather Belting, as one possessing superior merit. They are made under the proprietor's immediate inspection, from the thick and solid parts of the best Slaughter Leather. The Hides are expressly selected for this purpose, free from Flaughters, and tanned in the most approved manner. They are stretched by powerful Machines, whereby they are made to run straight and true, have a uniform bearing on the Drum or Pulley, hold their width evenly, and give from 10 to 20 per cent. more power than those made in the ordinary manner. They are cemented together in the joints, and stitched with Calf Lacing (or pegged,) which serves to strengthen the joints when exposed to dampness, gives a smooth and even surface to both sides the Belt, causing it to run as though it were one continuous piece of Leather. These Belts are highly recommended to Machinists, Cotton and Woollen Manufactories, Paper Mills, Saw and Planing Mills, and all kinds of Machinery where Belts are used. I am manufacturing an unrivalled article of Double Belts for those who require extra power.

Also on hand and for sale, Belt and Lace Leather. Persons in want of Belting or Power-Loom Harnesses, are invited to call and examine for themselves.

PATENT SELF-SHARPENING

FEED CUTTERS,

Manufactured for, and for Sale by

HIRAM BLACKMER,

5 Railroad Block, Lincoln St., Boston.

(Opposite Worcester Depot.)

This Cutter is superior to any other now in use. For strength, durability, and simplicity of construction, it is the only self-sharpening Hay, Straw and Corn Stalk Cutter now before the public. It entirely obviates all the objections now made to the Rotary Cylinder Hay Cutter, viz.: A number of Knives to grind and set, and the constant wear of the hide roll, and the consequent expense attending the repairs of those Cutters. This Cutter has no hide roll, and but ONE STRAIGHT KNIFE, which any person can grind and set with ease; but which in ordinary cases can be ground in the machine, and may be used for years without any other grinding. A prime assortment of STOVES constantly on hand.

WILLIAM WHITE,

PRINTER TO THE STATE,

Book, Newspaper, Job, Card and Ornamental

PRINTER,

Corner of Spring Lane & Devonshire Street,

(Over the Boston Type and Stereotype Foundry,) BOSTON.

This is one of the most extensive Printing Establishments in New England, and it has recently been NEWLY FURNISHED with Type of various descriptions, cast in the United States and Europe, requisite to a complete Printing Office.

The Presses, which are run by Steam, are new, and of the most improved construction, and comprise a variety of patterns recently invented, calculated to execute work well and fast. Attention is called to a new and beautiful REVOLVING CYLINDER PRESS, manufactured by Messrs. HOE & CO., of New York, expressly for Job Printing, which will throw off FOUR THOUSAND IMPRESSIONS PER HOUR, in style and clearness far superior to any other machine now in use, enabling us to furnish this part of our work at nearly one half the former prices, and which those in want of Printing are invited to call and examine.

CARD PRINTING, IN A NEAT AND THOROUGH MANNER.

Our facilities in this branch cannot be surpassed. The Presses are of the best possible construction for rapidity and neatness of execution; our materials are new, and have been selected without regard to cost,—and as we manufacture our own Cards, we are prepared to print them by the million at prices below any thing ever dreamed of in the history of CHEAP CARD PRINTING.

W. W. is also Manufacturer and Dealer in all kinds of

PRINTERS' CARD BOARD, WHITE AND COLORED,

Glazed, Fancy, Plain and Marble PAPERS, Bronze SIZE and Fancy INKS, which he offers to the Trade at the very LOWEST PRICES.

THE BOSTON STEREOTYPE FOUNDRY.

AND CARRIED ON

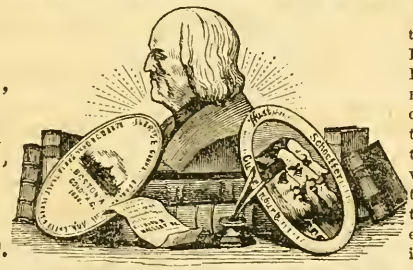
SINCE DEC. 1849,

BY A

COMPANY OF WORKMEN,

INCORPORATED

MARCH, 1850.



Under the present organization, the leading hands in the various Departments of COMPOSITION, PROOF-READING AND STEREOTYPING, to the number of twenty, comprising valuable additions to those who had previously sustained the high reputation of this well-known Foundry, share in the responsibilities and profits of the business—giving a degree of efficiency and skill to be attained in no other way.

BOOKS, OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS,

STEREOTYPED OR ELECTROTYPED PROMPTLY AND FAITHFULLY.

Publishers and Authors are referred to the numerous works that have been stereotyped at this establishment, from its commencement to the present time, as guaranties for our fulfilment of contracts with accuracy and good taste. By the employment of large fonts of type in connection with our system of co-operation, we are enabled to complete work, when required, with great despatch.

Extensive preparations have been made for applying the Art of

ELECTROTYPING,

And we are ready to furnish Copper Plates from all kinds of Type Work and Wood Cuts. Advertisements and Advertising Cuts, for Newspapers, Stereotyped or Electrotyped, on wood or metal bodies.

And all kinds of JOB WORK executed in a tasteful manner.

T. P. MERRIAM'S

CHEMICAL OILVE SOAP.

This Soap has received the FIRST PREMIUMS from all the Fairs in the Union, as the BEST and CHEAPEST FAMILY SOAP now in the market. It is warranted to wash free and easy in all kinds of water, and to remove all kinds of Grease, Paint, Oil, Tar, &c. One pound of this Soap will do more washing than two or even three pounds of any other Soap in the market.

☞ N. B.—ONE POUND of MERRIAM'S CHEMICAL OLIVE SOAP will do all the washing of six in a family, for four weeks, and with half the amount of time and labor of any other Soap. ☜

☞MANUFACTURED ONLY BY☜

T. P. MERRIAM,

THE SOLE INVENTOR AND PROPRIETOR,

Corner of Charles and Smith Streets, Providence, R. I.

None can be genuine without the name of the Inventor, in his own HANDWRITING, on every LABEL on the Box.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

Beware of the Spurious Article now in the market under the name of IMPROVED CHEMICAL OLIVE SOAP, as it is an INFERIOR ARTICLE, and has no resemblance to the GENUINE in its action or looks. The Venders of the Spurious article have had the mean audacity to steal the name of my SOAP, copying my label in order to deceive the Public, and palm off their inferior article.

The public should be careful in all cases to ask for T. P. MERRIAM'S CHEMICAL OLIVE SOAP, if they wish for an article that will save at least 50 per cent. over all other Soaps now in the Market.

This Soap is warranted to perform every thing that the Bill states it will do, or the money will be refunded.

☞ N. B.—There is no other Genuine Chemical Olive Soap in the Market, except T. P. Merriam's, although there are many that make nothing but a common article, who have branded their Soap, Chemical this, and Chemical that, in order to deceive the public; at the same time the venders of these spurious articles are ignorant of the first principles of Chemistry. Beware of those that make and sell the spurious articles.

MR. MERRIAM is also manufacturing a number of different kinds of Soaps, and other Articles, viz.:

CHEMICAL ERASIVE SOAP, warranted to be a Superior Article.

MERRIAM'S AMERICAN CASTILE SOAP, warranted equal to any Imported.

SCOURING OIL SOAP, a superior Article for Woollen manufacturers, and all other manufacturers that may want a powerful Scouring Soap, and is warranted to give satisfaction. This Soap is highly approved of by those who have used it for the last three years.

MERRIAM'S CHEMICAL BROWN WINSOR SHAVING AND TOILET SOAP, which, from its emollient and healing qualities, is admirably adapted for the use of those whose faces are tender, and whose hands are liable to chap.

MERRIAM'S CHEMICAL STARCH GLAZING. A superior article for giving a beautiful gloss to Linens, Cambrics, Muslins, Collars, Shirts, Bosoms, &c.

MERRIAM'S WHITE SODA SOAPS, also, Fulling Soaps of different qualities.

MERRIAM'S MARINE SALT WATER SOAP, and all kinds of common Brown Soaps.

HOUSE AND CARRIAGE WOOL MATS, equal if not superior to any imported Mats; warranted not to harden or become stiff by exposure to the weather.

MEDICATED WOOL MATTRESSES, WOOL SKINS AND BOSOM PIECES. The above Mattresses, Skins, &c., &c., have been used for six years, and have proved to be the most healthy article ever used in cases of Consumption, Night Sweats, Inflammation of the Lungs, Fevers, and all Rheumatic Affections.

ASTROLOGY! GEOMANCY! MAGIC!!

$25,000 HAVING BEEN WON

By my numerous friends on the late Presidential election, it should convince those skeptical persons who talk of failure, that no such word as fail is or has been known by the eminent and distinguished Astronomer and Astrologer, C. W. ROBACK, during his experience of over a quarter of a century, during which time he has given advice, and employed the wonderful powers which he only is the possessor of in this country, having been born with this wonderful and most powerful science. Who can doubt that we are not under the influence of destiny, and governed by the reciprocal influence of the celestial, terrestrial, and the astronomical systems, whose mutual relation to each other once disturbed, will destroy the unison of action? Do you doubt predestination? Then why not every man gain the celebrity of a General Taylor, a Daniel Webster, or a Henry Clay? And yet there are some who are foolish enough to doubt that a man may be born with the power to see into future events. Such should not condemn till they have called to see the seventh son of the seventh son, whose advantages from travelling have given him more experience than all the other astrologers, male or female, in the United States. How can it be possible that the destiny of man should be governed by the mere shuffling of a pack of cards? And yet there are thousands who allow themselves, with open mouths, to swallow the greasy words of some old woman, whose true skill consists in filling them with wonders that are more difficult for the digestion of others, who are more credulous yet more scientific. It is such that bring discredit on a profession that has been acknowledged to be a science of the highest order, from time immemorial; and is the only profession that has holy authority to sustain it.

The high respect which General Taylor and the following gentlemen had for astrology, is shown by his letter for his nativity, of the 20th of February, 1846, to the subscriber, in which he predicted all his victories, and named the places of the late war with Mexico; he also predicted that he would be elected President of the United States, and also foretold that he would not live but a short time after his election, which prediction has been fulfilled to the very letter.

The respect, also, which the late King of Sweden, Charles John Bernadotte, had for astrology is shown by the valuable medal which he presented to the subscriber for a prediction, in the year 1829, in the King's nativity; when, having made use of his secret power, he recovered an estate of four millions of francs from Paris. He also predicted the day, the hour, and the spot on which the King would be in danger from riding on horseback, and it happened exactly as he foretold. He also predicted a journey in Creve Brake's nativity, two years previous, that he would only get two hours' notice to go to Russia to see the Emperor about claims against Sweden, and it happened exactly as predicted.

In addition to his power to forcsee future events, he has the power to give such information as will effectually redeem such as are given to the too free use of the bottle. He is also capable of curing diseases heretofore considered incurable in this country by the ordinary medicines, and wishes all to give him a call who have been given up by their physicians, and wish to be cured. He will warrant a cure in all cases, and will make no charge, except for the conjurations he shall make use of in his office.

He is often asked what a nativity is; he answers, according to Geomancy, one of the seven points in the science of Astrology, that it is a horoscope of the future events of a person's life, carefully calculated and transcribed on paper, containing an account of all the lucky and unlucky days in the months and years of the person's life for whom it is cast, by which means thousands in this country and elsewhere have been prevented from misfortunes that had been hidden in the womb of futurity, by referring to their nativity before entering on any speculation of business or pleasure. It should be in the hands of every one as their almanac of life.

A Nativity of an individual can only forewarn the possessor of troubles that are in future for him; those who are involved in present difficulties of any kind must wait on the subscriber in person or by letter, who is prepared to exert his secret influence for their immediate benefit. He is ready to use his influence to foretell the result of lawsuits, and all undertakings in which there is a risk involved; he also makes use of his power for the restoration of stolen or lost property, which he has used for the advantage of thousands in this city and elsewhere.

It gives him much pleasure to offer as reference the following ladies and gentlemen, among hundreds of others, who have consulted with the Astrologer while in New York,—Mrs. Moss, Brown street, between Third and Fourth streets, back of No. 115; Mrs. Mary Miller, Asbaned street, between Eighth and Ninth and Locust and Walnut streets; Mr. E. M. Davis, No. 12 North Second street; Mr. John Blair, No. 8 Adams street, below Fitzwater; Mr. R. Johns, No. 16 Little Pine street, near Lombard; Mr. Minten, No. 6 Hurst street, between Lombard and South Fifth and Sixth streets; Mr. W. Johns, No. 16 Dean street, between Spruce and Locust and Eighth and Ninth streets. Who can doubt, after having such a host of respectable names to call on? All have been delighted and astonished by one who has been consulted by all the crowned heads of Europe, and enjoys a higher reputation as an astrologist than any one living.

TERMS—Ladies, $1; Gentlemen, $1.50. Nativities calculated according to Geomancy, for ladies, in full, $3; gentlemen, in full, $5. Persons at a distance can have their nativities drawn by sending the date of the day of their births. All letters containing the above fee will receive immediate attention, and nativities will be sent to any part of the world written on durable paper. All letters on the above topics, if postpaid, will be answered gratis.

Office Hours from 9 o'clock A. M. to 9 o'clock P. M. For more particulars call and get an Astrological Almanac gratis, where certificates can be seen.

MAYNARD & NOYES'

BLACK WRITING INK,

The manufacture of this Ink was established in 1816, and the quality has now been tested by the public for THIRTY-EIGHT years. During this time it has been constantly increasing in public favor and patronage, and is now the leading article in the country. Those who may be ignorant of its superiority and reputation, are invited to read the following testimonials, and to make trial of it themselves. When the best judges, after using it twenty and more years, express themselves in one manner concerning its superior excellence, it is quite evident that no one need be troubled with bad Ink.

Bank of State of North Carolina, Raleigh, March 4, 1847.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: Gentlemen,—Your Writing Ink has been in almost constant use by the officers of this banking house for the last fifteen years, and has always been preferred to any other brand. It flows freely from the pen, and does not mould; and the color, though sometimes pale when first opened, becomes a beautiful permanent black. I have been a regular consumer of it myself during this time, excepting when curiosity has led me to make trial of other kinds, and take pleasure in being able to speak so favorably of it, and trust that my opinion, founded on such long experience, will induce many who may not be so well acquainted with its merits to give it a trial.

Yours, respectfully, C. DEWEY, Cashier.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: Gentlemen,—We are happy in being able to say, that we entirely concur in the opinion expressed above of your Writing Ink, by Mr. Dewey, the Cashier of this Institution.

Respectfully yours, DUNN CAMERON, Pres.
S. W. WHITING, Teller.
D. DUPRE, Bookkeeper.

Boston, January 10, 1848.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: Gentlemen,—It is now, I believe, more than twenty years since the School Committee passed an order for using your Black Writing Ink in the City Schools. I have used it during that period, and deem it a first rate article, and cheerfully recommended it to others. It flows freely from the pen, and increases in blackness after being committed to paper, and the color is durable. I know of no Ink equal to yours, and I have tried many kinds, both English and American.

P. MACKINTOSH, JR.
Principal of Writing Dep. Hancock School.

'Office of Merchants' Ins. Co., Boston, Nov. 18, 1847.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: Gentlemen,—I have used your Writing Ink for the last sixteen years. In 1840, I gave you a certificate of its excellence, and having continued its use ever since to my entire satisfaction, my opinion is confirmed in its superiority. It flows freely from the pen, and is, in all respects, the best Ink I have ever used.

GEORGE HOMER, Secretary.

Registry of Deeds, Boston, Nov. 20, 1847.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: I have made use of your Writing Ink for the Recording of Deeds, &c., the past twenty-five years, and having found it to suit my wishes and purposes entirely, take pleasure in renewing my testimonial of its superiority. From the appearance of the records in my office, I am satisfied it is superior to any I have used, and consider it particularly adapted for all purposes where permanency of color is requisite or desirable. It flows well from the pen, and does not mould; and my oldest records prove its color to be unalterably black.

HENRY ALLINE, Register of Deeds.

Boston Post Office, Dec. 4, 1851.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: Gentlemen,—In 1843 I certified to the superior quality of your Writing Ink. I have continued to use it ever since that time, and take pleasure in expressing as I then did my entire satisfaction with it. It has now been used in this office more than twenty years. Other Inks have during that time been tested, but yours has been in every instance preferred. For fluidity, blackness, and permanency, none has been found equal to it.

GEORGE WM. GORDON, Postmaster.

Bowdoin School, Boston, Dec. 10, 1851.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: I have used your Ink in the Writing Department of this School during the last twenty-four years, and feel pleased in being able to express the same favorable opinion of it that I did ten years ago. It flows freely from the pen, its color is brilliant and permanent, and it combines all the necessary and desirable qualities of good ink. It has given me such entire satisfaction for so many years, that I can strongly recommend it to all of my profession, who so much need a first rate article of writing liquid.

JAS. ROBINSON, Writing Master.

Boston, Dec. 2, 1851.

Messrs. MAYNARD & NOYES: I am pleased in being able to say that longer experience in the use of your Ink, and the occasional trial of other kinds, have confirmed the good opinion I some years since expressed concerning it. I have used it in my weekly preparations for the pulpit twenty-one years, and have found it suit my wishes entirely. Its peculiar excellence is that it becomes blacker by age, at the same time it flows easily from the pen, and is sufficiently dark to make what is written easily to be read immediately after it has been committed to paper.

Yours respectfully,
G. W. BLAGDEN, Pastor Old South Ch.
